WANTS CANADA TO STAY BRITISH

Duke of Sutherland Would Like to See Dominion Populated With British Settlers — Training Farms

CONTRADICTS TALE OF FEUDAL SYSTEM

Deeply Interested in Colonization and Wishes to Make It as Easy as Possible for Old Country Families

The Duke of Sutherland, head of one of the oldest families in Great Britain, millionaire land owner, patron of all the sports, as well as of all the arts, arrived in Victoria last evening.

"There are perhaps, a few things you might say," he stated to a Colonist representative, "in connection with my interests in Canada that would be of interest to the people. On previous occasions I notice that my intentions here, while they have certainly attracted attention, have been so misrepresented that they might better have been left unsaid. For instance, it has been alleged that my object is to buy land in this country, in this particular province, so it has been said, with the idea of starting or rather restarting a species of feudalism. Now that is not my intention at all. And while of course the criticism of people who do not know my objects are of very little trouble to me, I think it is perhaps as well that the real facts should be stated.

"I am an Englishman and my object in coming to Canada and taking up land is to help my fellow countrymen and give them a chance here of doing what they would never be able to do at home. That end cannot be accomplished by any feudal system. Of course it is true that I have purchased land in Canada. I have about three or four thousand acres around Fort George, and I have about three or four thousand acres at Brooks, Alberta. But my idea is not one of peasant tenantry, as has been suggested, but one of British settlers in possession of their own homesteads and farms. Canada is a British country and I want it to remain so, and my object is to encourage British settlement by purchasing tracts of land suitable for agricultural purposes, and selling—selling, not renting—it to Britishers at a reasonable price in order to encourage them to come here. What land I purchase here is for that purpose. There is no speculation about it.

Interested in Colonization

"I am interested in colonization and that is the reason I am here. I have a number of schemes on foot, all with the same end in view, the bringing of British settlers out to this country. If I suggested that I desired to do so in order to leaven the influx of Americans and others, that would but half

CHURCHES UNITE

Congregationalists and Presbyterians of Danville Are Now One

DANVILLE, Que., May 30.—Without waiting for the consummation of church union the Congregational and Presbyterian cvhurches here have decided to merge. Hereafter the supportera will meet in the Congregational church. This is the first instance of any similar union in Canada.

PLANNING CANADA'S NAVAL POLICY

OTTAWA, May 30.—The official announcement is made that Premier Borden will sail for London on June 28 to consult the British Admiralty in regard to a Canadian naval policy. He will be accompanied by Hon. J. D. Hazen and probably one other minister.

During the past few days the cabinet has been giving serious consideration to the naval question and a number of proposals have been discussed. However, nothing definite will be decided upon until the premier and Mr. Hazen have consulted the Admiralty. A broad, advanced policy that will appeal to all loyal Canadians is the aim of the ministry.

PREPARING FOR CANAL OPENING

Convention of Western Canadian Business Men to Assemble in Calgary and Discuss Trade Possibilities

VANCOUVER, May 30.—A convention is to be held in Calgary on June 28 and 29 next for the purpose of discussing what western Canada is to do to prepare for the commercial and transportation changes which will be brought about by the opening of the Panama canal. The Vancouver Board of Trade has been invited to send delegates to this gathering and the representatives appointed have been Mr. Jonathan Rogers, Mr. W. H. Malkin and Secretary W. A. Blair.

The convention will be made up of representatives of practically all the boards of trade and similar bodies from Moose Jaw to the Pacific Coast and added importance will be given the meeting in that the members of the big party of British financiers who are to make a tour of Canda will be in Calgary at that time and their members will be invited to attend the conference and some of them will be invited to speak and give their views on the new business that it will be possible to work up by the creation of the new trade route through the Panama canal.

The congress of Western Boards of Trade is the first one of such magnitude that has been organized by the representatives of western cities.

SIR W. LAURIER ON RECIPROCITY

Former Premier Makes Two Extraordinary Misstatements of Fact in His Montreal Banquet Speech

HIS COMMENT ON THE "ADJUNCT" LETTER

Says President Taft Borrowed the Idea of Making Canada An Appendage of United States

OTTAWA, May 30.—The Conservatives here are expressing amused interest in the Liberal demonstration at Montreal. Particular attention is paid to two extraordinary mis-statements of facts by Sir W. Laurier. One was his declaration that his government during its first session brought down British preference. This is flatly untrue. The Laurier government's first session began in August 19 and ended on October 5, 1896, and the British preference was introduced in the session of 1897 which did not begin until March 25.

More amusing was the Liberal leader's assertion that President Taft in his adjunct letter, "Only repeated what had been said by Canadian jingoes," and admitted he had borrowed both the idea and expression from the Canadians. The fact is that President Taft wrote the "adjunct letter" on January 10. The agreement was signed on January 21 and was announced on January 26.

The Conservatives did not begin to develop the knowledge that it would impair Canadian independence until after Champ Clark's outbreak on February 14. This, according to Sir Wilfrid, President Taft "repeated" things which were not said till a month afterwards.

HARBOR PLANS BEING HURRIED

Ottawa Authorities Are Busy On Them and Expect to Call for Tenders Very Shortly —Accommodation Available

Contract plans and specifications for the breakwater to shelter five modern concrete piers, with warehouses and all up-to-date cargo-handling appliances, to berth a large fleet of steamers and equip a spacious outer harbor for Victoria in keeping with the requirements of the great trade development which will follow the opening of the Panama Canal, are being prepared at Ottawa. Tenders will be called for the work as soon as possible. Advices to this effect were received from Ottawa yesterday.

The department of public works at Ottawa is hurrying the plans and specifications to completion, and as soon as they are ready for submission to contractors tenders will be invited for the big work. Mr. Cuthbert C. Worsfold, who has been appointed to the position of resident engineer for the department of public works in British Columbia, is now in Ottawa in connection with the work, and it is expected that an announcement will be made in the near future that bids have been invited from the world's great engineering firms, several of which have already announced their intention of competing for the building of the breakwater.

Mr. D. R. Harris, C. E., of Victoria, who was appointed by the Dominion government to make soundings and a survey of the outer harbor covering the area of the proposed breakwater, saw fit, and properly so, to include in the scope of his work not only the area adjacent to Ogden point, the locality suggested by Mr. Louis Coste, M. I. C. E., in his report recommending the construction of the breakwater, but also the area westward of Holland point, and his maps and data of soundings are now before the engineers of the department of public works at Ottawa for their consideration in the preparation of the contract plans and specifications now under way.

The breakwater, which will consist of a rip-rap mound with big concrete blocks surmounted by a concrete wall, is to extend about 2500 feet from the shore and have a concrete pier offering berths for shipping on the inside 1100 feet long. The expected cost will be in the neighborhood of $1,250,000, and the plans, as prepared by Mr. Coste, provide for the construction in the area enclosed by the breakwater of four large concrete piers with warehouses and modern cargo handling la-

VANCOUVER'S HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

OTTAWA, May 30.—Mr. Swan's report making recommendations with regard to Vancouver's harbor accommodation has been received by the public works department and is being examined by Chief Engineer Lafleur, who will prepare and present a report upon it in the course of the next ten days. Pending the completion of his examination, the department declines to make the report public.

Mr. ROBERT F. GREEN, M.P.

NELSON, B. C., May 30.—Mr. R. F. Green, of Victoria, was today elected by acclamation as member of parliament for Kootenay. He was nominated by the Conservatives and no opposing candidate was put up.

Mr. Green succeeds Mr. A. S. Goodeve, who resigned his seat to accept a position on the railway commission.

Robert Francis Green was born at Peterborough, Ont., November 14, 1861, the son of Mr. Benjamin Green. He was educated at the public and high schools of Peterborough and when 19 years of age removed to Erie, Pa. He came west as far as Winnipeg in 1882 and joined the C. P. R. staff. He served in the Riel rebellion of 1885 and later in the same year opened a general store at Revelstoke. In subsequent years he engaged actively in mining. He was first elected to the British Columbia legislature for Slocan in 1898. In 1903 he was appointed chief commissioner of lands and works, an office which he held until 1907. Mr. Green was married in 1889 to a daughter of Mr. P. Macdonnell, of Erie, Pa. Of late years Mr. Green has been a member of the real estate and financial firm of Green & Burdick, Langley street.

IRREPARABLE LOSS TO AVIATION

British and French Newspapers Mourn Death of Great Man—Is Described as "Edison of the Air"

DAYTON, Ohio, May 30.—Dayton tonight is mourning the death of Wilbur Wright, the famous aeroplane inventor, who died early today of typhoid fever. The funeral probably will be held on Saturday afternoon. Dissolution came suddenly but quietly with the patient surrounded by his venerable father, Bishop Milton Wright, his brother Orville, his sister Katherine, the two other brothers, Lorin and Rouschtin and Dr. Daniel Peckel Conklin who has been in constant attendance since Mr. Wright took to his bed on May 4.

For approximately two weeks the patient has been unconscious, but as his eyes roamed about the room in the direction of nurses, the doctors and members of the family, he gave unmistakable evidence of a sub-conscious desire to recognize them.

On Tuesday evening Dr. Spitler expressed the opinion that death might ensue immediately, but the patient again rallied and seemed to improve until the last attack.

SETTLEMENT NOT YET IN SIGHT

LONDON, May 30.—It is evident the joint conference tomorrow whereby the government hoped to arrange a settlement of the dock strike is foredoomed to failure.

The master carmen, lightermen, public wharfingers and barge owners have joined with the other employers' associations in declining the government invitation to take part in the conference at the board of trade. In each case this action is justified on the ground that employers must retain their right to employ union or non-union men as they choose.

Satisfactory Arrangements With B. C. Electric Railway —Lengthy Conference With Premier Borden

The Hon. Richard McBride, premier of the province, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss McBride, returned to the city yesterday afternoon after a five weeks' absence, nearly three weeks of which time was spent in England. The visit to the old land was undertaken on provincial business of high importance and its outcome has been successful in every detail. Courtesies of the highest character were extended the premier by the many prominent people whom he met while away, and through the good offices of the Right Hon. Winston Churchill he was honored by being granted a private audience with His Majesty aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert as she lay off Portland during the naval review.

Mr. McBride was successful during his visit to London in selecting a site for the new British Columbia government offices which will be located on the Strand. With better and more up to date facilities this branch of the government activities, presided over by the Hon. J. H. Turner, will be capable of largely increased usefulness.

The premier had also a number of satisfactory interviews with Mr. Horne Payne and other directors of the B. C. Electric Railway company relative to the franchises held by that corporation on the mainland. The outcome of these interviews will be an adjustment of any difficulties which existed between the company and municipalities which will prove of high interest and satisfaction to the people of Vancouver and its vicinity.

Unqualified Denial

As was generally anticipated by everyone who knows the premier he gave an unqualified denial to [illegible] view which was alleged to have been obtained from him while passing through Ottawa. More is to be heard of it in the course of an interview with a Colonist [illegible]

Aeroplane at Seattle Meet Dashes Into Tier of Boxes Containing Spectators—Aviator's Story of Happening

SEATTLE, May 30.—While Aviator J. Cliff Turpin, in a Wright aeroplane, was careering down the field at the Meadows this afternoon at a speed of fifty miles an hour an unknown man rushed across the track and would have been beheaded by the machine but for the quick action of the aviator, who turned upward and toward the grand stand, which was crowded with people. It seemed to the occupants of the stand that Turpin would dash among them, but he checked the speed of the machine and lowered its direction so that it struck the tier of boxes in front of the stand. A number of people in one of the boxes were hurt, and the aeroplane, its power shut off and its momentum cut short by the collision with the stand, fell upon the heads of the crowd of people standing in front of the grand stand and overlooking the old race track, where the accident was being attempted.

ISLAND DEVELOPS STEADILY AND SURELY

Settlers Going in Along C. P. R. Lines—Freight Traffic Increasing—Daily Service to Port Alberni Probable

It is an impressive story of Island development which is told by Mr. H. E. Beasley, superintendent of the Island division of the C.P.R., after an inspection tour over the lines. Not only is there a great increase in both freight and passenger traffic, but settlers of the best class are pouring in, land is being taken up in a very gratifying manner and much progress is being being made with the huge lumbering enterprises which have recently been initiated. So promising is the outlook for increased business with Port Alberni and other west coast ports reached by the railway that a daily train service to the former point is among the possibilities of the near future.

"Yes," said Mr. Beasley to a Colonist reporter yesterday, "Island development is proceeding at a very gratifying rate. Business on the Port Alberni line is very good and increasing so rapidly that it would not be surprising if it were found that a daily service would shortly be required. But all things considered, the service which the company is already giving to the west coast port is a good one, considering its isolated position a short time ago. Thus passengers leaving both Victoria and Vancouver in the morning are landed in Port Alberni at the same hour in the afternoon, 4 o'clock, and for the return trip, passengers leaving Alberni at 11 a.m. are landed in either city at the dinner hour. The operation of the Princess Patricia between Nanaimo and Vancouver makes possible this fine service for the accommodation of travel between the mainland city and the west coast port. As a result of this, passengers leaving Port Alberni at 11 naturally Port Alberni is showing great

Settlers Going In

"But what is perhaps more gratifying is the fact that new ground is being broken on the Island—and of course that is what we want, more land cleared and more settlers. And I am pleased to be able to say that a marked impetus has been given in this direction. There is a big development in that section of country between McBride Junction and Cameron Lake, no less than twenty new settlers, with their families, having recently taken up holdings there. And in this connection I may say that few people realize what a fine type of settlers we are getting on the Island. Many of the newcomers are from England, people of considerable means, who are taking up holdings with the intention of spending the remainder of their days here. This is a very gratifying feature of the situation.

"The little chalet at Cameron Lake, primarily intended for the use of fishermen, has been opened for some time, and so popular has it proved that no doubt the accommodation at that point will be very largely increased.

"In the section of country lying beyond McBride Junction there are very healthy signs of development, much of the activity being due to the construction work in progress on the line to Courtenay, 20 miles of which is under contract. There is marked improvement around the Junction as well.

Freight Business Growing

"The United Lumber company, at Nanoose Bay, have a large saw mill under construction, which will have a capacity of 80,000 feet per day. Logging operations are in full progress preparatory to the opening of the mill and already we are hauling from 20 to 30 carloads of logs per day.

"Then there is a new sawmill near the town of Coombs; it has just commenced operations with a daily output of three or four cars. The lumbermill industry all over the Island is in a very healthy condition.

"The freight traffic generally on the railway is very good, our greatest difficulty being in making delivery in Victoria, owing to the inadequate trackage facilities.

"On the Cowichan branch, the track has been laid all the way from Duncan to the Lake and also from Duncan to Osborne Bay, which point has been chosen by the Empire Lumber company to handle the output from the immense limits which are to be developed in the neighborhood of Cowichan Lake. It is understood that large quantities of machinery for the company are now on the way from the east, so there should be great development in that section of the Island very shortly.

"We have recenty let contracts for a new freight and passenger depot at Duncan and will provide largely increased trackage at that point, not only to accommodate the increased local business but to handle business arising out of the operation of the Cowichan Lake branch."

NEW RESIDENT ENGINEER

Mr. Cuthbert C. Worsfold, who has been appointed resident engineer of the department of public works in British Columbia, to succeed the late Mr. G. A. Keefer, is a former Victorian who has recently resided at New Westminster, where Mr. Keefer made his headquarters, And who has had a long experience as a government engineer.

Mr. Worsfold, who is an engineer ranking high in his profession, has been engaged for the past fourteen years as chief assistant to the late Mr. Keefer. He was born at Dover, England, and came to Victoria many years ago, after graduating. His brother, Mr. James K. Worsfold, was for many years provincial assessor of British Columbia, having resigned that post owing to illness. His sister, Miss Maud Worsfold, is noted as a miniature painter, having exhibited on many occasions at the Royal Academy.

Mr. Worsfold married the daughter of Mrs. Charles, of Richardson street. He has a large number of friends in this city who have received the news of his appointment with much gratification.

FISHERIES QUESTION TO BE RE-OPENED

Province Sends Two Expert Representatives to Attend Conference Called by State of Washington

Yesterday afternoon Mr. D. N. McIntyre, deputy minister of fisheries, and Mr. J. P. Babcock, fishery expert, left the capital for Seattle to take part in the round table conference called by the governor of the state of Washington to inquire into the question of fish conservation in the Puget Sound waters contiguous to the boundary line. An invitation was sent to the provincial government to be represented at the conference, and Attorney-General Bowser, who has been acting premier in the absence of the Hon Richard McBride, appointed the two gentlemen named to attend.

The question to be debated at the conference is not in relation to jurisdiction. It is merely a question of endeavoring to obtain united action on both sides of the line, so that the fish in these waters will not become depleted, as they are reported to be at present under the rigorous systems of catching that are being prosecuted. North of the boundary British Columbia is supreme, and south of the boundary, of course, the Americans are supreme.

The subject is an old one, having been the basis of several conferences in the past and at least two commissions. The Canadian governments, Provincial and Dominion, are ready, and have always been ready, to comply with the recommendations of the commissions, but the American authorities decline to do so, and consequently, in order that the Canadian fishing interests might not suffer from the unfair competition, the recommendations, which had been translated into Canadian legislation, have not been acted upon.

Before leaving for Seattle yesterday afternoon Mr. Babcock and Mr. McIntyre furnished an explanation of how the matter stands at present. It appears that the fish that run from the Fraser river to spawn pass through American channels before they reach the Gulf of Georgia, and the Americans, refusing to be bound by the recommendations of their own commissions, which, though passed by the Washington state senate into law, were thrown out by the assembly, catch them with traps, purse-nets, etc. The contention of Canada for years has been that the methods of the Americans are carried to such extremes that they do not accord a fair proportion of the fish any protection in their waters at all, whereas British Columbia has weekly close seasons and fall close seasons to enable the fish to spawn.

"There are no adequate provisions on the American side of the boundary for the protection of the fish, and consequently we cannot ensure a sufficient number on the spawning grounds each year to produce sufficient fish to maintain the runs," said the provincial experts. "In fact, the runs are being depleted now by this practise. We have been discussing the subject for the last twelve years, and while past experience does not encourage us in thinking that the forthcoming conference will lead to the end of the trouble by the mutual adoption of some prohibitive measures, we are not without hope that it will in some degree bring the final solution nearer. For one thing, it will reopen the entire question again, and that should go a long way toward the solution which we in Canada all desire to see applied to the situation. The matter has already been discussed at three or four conferences. The Dominion appointed a royal commission once, and at another time the state of Washington appointed another royal commission. Those commissions sat in 1905 and 1907 respectively.

"Both of the commissions and all the conferences came to the conclusion that the only thing to do in order to conserve the fishing industry was to have a close season. It was also agreed by both commissions that fishing for sockeye on the Fraser river should be prohibited for two years in order to allow the fish to replenish themselves. Acting upon the recommendations and findings of the commissions, the Ottawa government passed an order-in-council giving effect to these prohibitive measures in regard to the Fraser river, but the legislature of the state of Washington refused to fall into line in regard to the Puget Sound waters, and consequently the order-in-council passed by the Dominion government had to be repealed. It was the assembly that refused the bill on the American side. The senate was unanimously in favor of it, but the assembly was unanimously opposed to it. Consequently there was nothing achieved by the commissions.

"At a later date the whole question was referred to the International Fishing Commission appointed jointly by Great Britain and the United States. That commission was appointed to investigate just such questions as the one under review, and, after a thorough and searching inquiry into the merits of the case, the commission reported in favor of the contention that has always been held on this side of the line, namely, that a close season should be observed by both parties in these waters. Canada was ready to accept that report and pass legislation upon it, but the U. S. senate decided to hang the matter up."

Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Babcock are both expert men in the provincial fishing department, and it is believed that their suggestions and arguments will do much toward convincing the other representatives at the conference that the time has arrived when some step in the direction that has long been indicated should be taken.

Fifty Years Ago Today

(From the Colonist of May 31, 1862.)

Smallpox—There are 18 cases at the Indian smallpox hospital and 17 cases at Ogden Point. Three bodies lie unburied at the latter locality.

The steamer Otter, with 30 passengers and a fair freight, left last night for New Westminster.

Fast Time—The steamship Brother Jonathan made her last trip to Portland from San Francisco in sixty-nine hours and ten minutes—said to be the fastest time on record.

McQuade & Co.'s steamer North Star, Capt. Jones, arrived this morning from Stickeen River, which point she left on the 9th inst. Several canoes filled with miners left for up-river on the 9th. The river was reported clear of ice for a distance of 12 miles from the mouth and the ice breaking away rapidly. The party reported the Rebecca to have gone up the river on a prospecting trip returned to the south for a supply of fresh provisions. They reported excellent prospects and had left again for the scene of labor. "Buck" Choquette told the miners that when in Victoria he had not told how good the diggings were. They are much better than set forth in any account appearing in the Colonist. The miners held a meeting and decided that if any white man was found supplying Indians with liquor he would be strung up.

Fire Limits—What has long been wanted, an act to prevent the erection of wooden buildings in certain portions of the town, is now promised by Mr. Cary. The sooner it becomes law the greater will be the safeguards against the spread of fire. Those who are enterprising enough to construct brick buildings will not be liable to be taxed so heavily by insurance companies as a protection against mushroom houses erected in a day, that will ignite like tinder and burn like tow.

interview which I am stated to have given out at Ottawa on the naval question, I can only characterize it as a contemptible act on the part of the reporter responsible. Unquestionably the motive was to make any observation of mine with regard to the naval question as farcical as it was possible to do. During the past fifteen years, in fact ever since I have been favored with publicity in the newspaper press of Canada, this is the first time that a reporter has ever been guilty of such a gross act of impropriety as far as I am concerned. I will endeavor in every possible way to trace the source of the interview with which I am credited and if I am successful I will communicate direct with the person responsible.

The Naval Question

"With regard to the naval question and the part which Canada will take in imperial defence I can only repeat what I have said many times during the past few months. The issue is a national one, and in no way partisan. It is in this way, and in this way only, that it will be certainly approached by the Canadian government. Premier Borden has already promised that the Conservative party will undertake and carry out an effective naval programme. There is no doubt that when Mr. Borden and his colleagues visit England in the course of next month, or so, they will be received with the utmost cordiality by the lords of the Admiralty and will be accorded hearty co-operation and sound advice with the development of his plans, following his visit, we shall see a policy put into effect which will be satisfactory to Canada as a whole.

Confers With Mr. Borden

"When in Ottawa, last Saturday, I spent the great portion of the time I was there with Mr. Borden. It will interest his host of friends out here to learn that he is in excellent health and spirits. When the departmental arrears, which accumulated during his holiday have been disposed of it is the prime minister's intention to go to London to confer with the imperial government. With regard to his reception there he will be accorded a welcome of the most spontaneous and enthusiastic kind. The people of the Motherland, since Mr. Borden achieved his great victory in the reciprocity election, have learned to look upon him as a leading imperialist. This feeling has been accentuated by the recent disclosures in the publication of the Taft-Roosevelt correspondence on the subject and the denouncement of the aims which that notorious pact had in view."

Continuing to speak of his trip Mr. McBride alluded to the pleasure he had had in renewing his old time friendship with the Right Hon. Winston Churchill. He was the guest of the latter aboard the Admiralty yacht Enchantress at Weymouth during the time His Majesty was reviewing his fleet. Every possible kindness and attention was shown to British Columbia's first minister and he was privileged to go over the principal warships assembled for the great review.

Warm Friends of Canada

"I can say," continued Mr. McBride, "without hesitation that Mr. Churchill will undoubtedly lend his great energy and ability, as far as possible, to assist Canada in formulating a naval policy. Both Mr. Churchill and the Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, the secretary of state for the colonies, are exceptionally warm friends of this country and are interested to a great extent in its well being. I used every effort to urge both of these gentlemen to take an opportunity of visiting Canada during the parliamentary recess. They were enthusiastic over the idea, but as their high imperial duties keep them so busily engaged it is possible that they may find it difficult to afford the time necessary for the trip.

"While I was the guest of Mr. Churchill at the naval review His Majesty was gracious enough to receive me in private audience aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. In the course of the ten or fifteen minutes which I was privileged to spend with the King he made very many interesting inquiries about Canada and British Columbia in particular. He recalled very vividly the impressions which he had gleaned on his trip here with Her Majesty some years ago and had words of warmth for the splendid reception with which he was greeted. The King is watching with high interest the national development of the Dominion. He takes a great pride in our expansion. I venture to hope that arrangements may be perfected in the not distant future whereby it may be possible for His Majesty to come to this country. There is also a likelihood of the Prince of Wales coming here within the course of a few years. Despite the sovereign's many and arduous duties the time may arrive when circumstances will permit him to come here and look over this section of his Dominions."

Victorians in London

"Canada in London" was a themes upon which Mr. McBride waxed unusually enthusiastic, and from the statements he made it could be gathered that this country, and notably the far western province, looms very largely in the financial world at present. There were a great many British Columbians in the world's metropolis, he said, during the time he spent there. He was astonished at the number he met. They included Mr. and Mrs. Bodwell, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barnard, Mrs. Matson, Mrs. Tye, Mrs. Coles and Miss Fitzgibbon, of Victoria; Mr. A. E. Rand, of New Westminster, and Mr. Carroll, of Vancouver, as well as many others too numerous to mention.

"This province," said the premier, "stands very high in financial London. Indeed in this respect her reputation could not very well be stronger. It remains for us to conserve this high title to respect which we enjoy and to see that we continue to maintain this standard in the money markets of the world. The many inquiries from leading bankers and capitalists to which which I had the privilege of replying show how well we are coming along in this our era of stable prosperity. Money is now being diverted towards Canada and British Columbia as never before. In this province we may unquestionably look to a greater growth and development than has been accomplished at any time in the past. For my part, I was able to tell those whom I met in London of the programme of railway construction, of the roads which are being built and of the other government measures for opening up and developing the province. These were at once recognized as business-like preparations whereby this province might take her share in the advantages which will accrue, commercially and industrially, following the opening of the Panama Canal.

New B. C. Offices

"One of my duties in London was to consider the question of a site for a new building in which to house the activities of the department which is looked after so assiduously and successfully by the Hon. J. H. Turner, our agent-general. I am happy to say that a site has been selected on the Strand, a main artery of the metropolis, which will be decided upon subject to the approval of the cabinet. With the additional facilities which the new offices will provide it will be possible to carry out even more effectually than in the past the purposes of that department which is so ably administered by Mr. Turner. There has never been any suggestion that our offices should form part of the building which the federal government proposes to erect. I have received no representation from Ottawa with any such plan in view. The intention of the government is to have offices in a building of its own, and I believe that this will meet with the hearty approval of the people of the province.

B. C. Electric Franchises

"During my visit I had several interviews with Mr. Horne Payne and other directors of the B. C. Electric Railway company, and we hope to be able to inform the people of Vancouver within a short time of a settlement of outstanding issues between the company and different municipalities. The issue will, I have no doubt, be received with satisfaction by all interests concerned.

"During the brief time I spent in London, a little less than three weeks, I was engaged in a number of interviews with prominent people, and had an opportunity to hear of a great many things of high interest to the people of this province. It was also my privilege to be able to give such information as I had at my command, and I have hopes that this will accomplish a useful purpose.

"The hosts of friends in British Columbia of the Hon. J. H. Turner will be pleased to learn that he is enjoying robust health and stands stronger in the estimation of Londoners than ever before. Indeed, I believe that no man in a similarly responsible position holds the confidence and esteem of the public in a stronger measure than our agent-general. It will interest the people here to learn that we may expect a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Turner in the course of the next few months.

Better Terms

"On my way home I discussed with Mr. Borden at Ottawa practically every question of outstanding interest to the Dominion and the province. For many weeks past experts have been preparing additional statistics for the case of the province in the matter of better terms, and it affords me the utmost satisfaction to be able to tell the people of British Columbia that an inquiry into the subject will be under way within the next two or three months. Among other matters which I discussed with the prime minister was that of railway connection between the island and the mainland. Of necessity that is a subject which requires a considerable amount of deliberation. It is an immense question, which will involve careful study, and I am very interested to learn that the people of Victoria and the island generally have been taking a lively and active part in an effort to advance the project during the past few months."

Of matters of particular moment to Victoria and Vancouver Island Mr. McBride was not in a position to speak definitely until he had conferred with his colleagues and learned of what had transpired in his absence. He, however, announced that definite plans relative to the partition of the former Songhees reserve for railway purposes would be forthcoming within a short time. Victoria, he says, is showing wonderful development, and the future holds great things in store for the capital of the province.

Immediately on his return, Mr. McBride became immersed in a variety of business which had accumulated during his absence. He was accompanied on his trip to London by Mr. Lawrence Macrae, his secretary, who returned with him to the city yesterday.

"You was a big loser when de game broke up, wasn't you?" "Yes, Dat's. Why it broke up." Was it a good hand that won de last pot?" "I shore was. When it landed it felt like it mos' o' weighed a ton."—Washington Star.

MR. McBRIDE'S MISSION

We think it safe to assume that Mr. McBride's mission to London will be fruitful of good results to British Columbia. It is highly desirable that the province should be kept prominently before the British public, and the conservative, yet optimistic, manner in which it is the Premier's custom to deal with matters relating to business and financial interests renders him especially adapted for the position of a spokesman for British Columbia. Mr. McBride's personal acquaintance in influential circles in the Empire's capital is large and he is enabled thereby to render public service of a kind about which nothing can well be published. He is able to give financial men an insight into conditions here which they could not otherwise get, and give them a point of view that they could not readily acquire from any other source. It is a very excellent thing for the province that the Premier is able to visit the United Kingdom occasionally and we hope he will be able to do so every year during his future tenure of office.

Mr. McBride has felt called upon to deny a statement on the naval question attributed to him in an Ottawa newspaper interview. The denial was hardly necessary, but it was well that it should be made, for unfounded statements of this character, when once put in circulation, no matter how intrinsically improbable they may be on their face, are apt to gain credence if they are not promptly denied.

The report which Mr. BcBride gives of the forthcoming construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Vancouver to Fort George and of the enterprises which the Mackenzie and Mann interests have in contemplation, indicates that the present period of business activity will be further stimulated. His views in regard to the immediate fuuture of the province are rose-colored indeed, and their publication broadcast will have an excellent effect upon the business and financial community. He says that millions of British capital will find its way into this province. Political friends and opponents will join in an expression of satisfaction that he has returned from his tour with a message so full of hope and encouragement.

It has been Mr. McBride's good fortune to be closely identified with the inauguration of a new epoch in the history of his native province, and it has also been his lot to be able to give to that epoch a character that is unique. It is fitting at this time to speak of this. There is something singularly appropriate in the fact that it is one of British Columbia's own boys who was the first among her public men to realize that she could stand upon her own merits unaided in a great policy of development. To say this is not to use the language of flattery, neither is it so to add that in Mr. McBride British Columbia has found the first political leader, who has spoken to the world the aspirations, the courage, the confidence and the resolution of her people. He has told the world that we British Columbians have faith in our country and are prepared to commit ourselves to a courageous policy of development, and that as citizens of the Empire, we stand ready to do our duty in all ways pertaining to the general welfare.

NAVAL DEFENCE

The resolution adopted by the public meeting held last night under the auspices of the Navy League, sets forth very clearly what, we think and have always contended, are the views of the people of this province, and supports what seems to us to be an essential part of any naval policy that is at all worth while.

Canadian contribution to Imperial naval defence presents itself to us in two aspects. One of these is that the contribution should be in keeping with the wealth of the Dominion, its relative importance among the daughter nations, and the requirements of any effective programme of defence. The second and subordinate aspect is that, as British possessions on the Pacific present the most vulnerable of all the imperial frontiers, it ought to be the duty of Canada to assume a large share of responsibility for the efficient representation of British naval power on that ocean.

That no time ought to be lost in deciding upon a line of action is beyond all doubt, and we do not know that any exception can be taken to the language of the resolution on this point. As Mr. Borden and Mr. Hazen are to go to England very shortly to confer with the Admiralty, we may assume that a decision will be announced at an early day. If anything which the Colonist could add to what it has already said as to the duty of Canada, in justice to herself and to the Empire, to act promptly and effectively in the premises, we should be glad to say it, but we shall only repeat that we trust the decision as to the naval programme will be reached without needless delay, and that it will be in accordance with the patriotic sentiments expressed in the Navy League resolution and the speeches in support of it.

PROGRESS ON THE ISLAND

We have an interesting interview with Mr. H. E. Beasley, superintendent of the Island Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as we assume it is now correct to call the E. and N. system. Mr. Beasley speaks of the great and satisfactory progress now being made in the area served by the railway. It is only necessary for one to observe the trains which run into and out of Victoria and compare the business done now with what was done a decade ago to realize that the advance is general and great. Mr. Beasley thinks a daily train to Port Alberni may be among the possibilities of the very near future.

The nature of the development in progress is very gratifying. Many new settlers are taking up land, and they are men of the very best type. New industries are being started. The saw mills at Coombs, where the Salvation Army colony is located; that of the United Lumber company of Nanoose and that of the Empire Lumber company at Cowichan means large pay-rolls and a corresponding increase in commercial business. The completion of the Cowichan branch will make a very great difference to that rich valley and materially enhance the importance of the thriving town of Duncan.

Island development has fairly begun, and with the extension of the C. P. R. system now in hand and the construction of the Canadian Northern Pacific, we may look for even more rapid progress than has recently been in evidence.

THE MEMBER FOR KOOTENAY

The election of Mr. R. F. Green by acclamation in Kootenay is a matter of congratulation not only to the province at large but especially to Victorians for it is here that the member-elect is best known and where he has the majority of his interests. British Columbia will have an enthusiastic and able champion in its new member. Mr. Borden can count upon an ardent and loyal supporter of his policies in Mr. Green. The inhabitants of the Kootenay can rely upon it that their interests will be carefully conserved and that any grievance under which they may labor will be rectified, as far as lies in the power of the new member. We in Victoria can rest assured, despite the fact that Mr. Green will be compelled to broaden his sphere of action, that he will still take an especial interest in this city and will be at all times ready to lend aid by his voice at Ottawa to whatever will make for our progress and prosperity. In offering no opposition to the election of Mr. Green we think that the Liberals of the Koontenay showed excellent judgment, and that their judgment will be vindicated by what the new member will accomplish at Ottawa not only for his constituency but for the province at large.

THE BREAKWATER

A telegram from Ottawa announces that tenders for the breakwater at the Outer Harbor will be called for at a very early day. Mr. Cuthbert Worsfold, who was formerly assistant to the late Mr. Keefer and has been appointed resident engineer of the Public Works Department, is now in Ottawa and is in a position to give his personal attention to the important work of completing all necessary plans. The sudden death of Mr. Keefer would have been a more serious disadvantage to the prosecution of this great public work, if it were not that Mr. Worsfold was in full touch with his chief's views and therefore able to take up the work when the latter was forced to lay it down. The announcement of the early letting of the contract will be very welcome to the citizens, who will see in this another proof of the determination of the Department, so ably presided over by Mr. Monk, to carry out all its undertakings with the utmost despatch.

Mr. Worsfold has very many friends in Victoria, and they will be glad to hear of his promotion to a post that he is in every way so well qualified to fill. We extend to him very hearty congratulations.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

The Montreal Gazette has been interviewing a number of bankers upon the financial outlook for the present year. It sums up the result of inquiries in these words:

Inquiries at several banks yesterday elicited the gratifying information that business prospects are good and that if the early seeding in the west is productive of the good crops expected, there is nothing, at least in sight, to prevent the Dominion from enjoying general prosperity during the next year and a half. Many millions are reported to have been invested here since the beginning of the year, and many more will undoubtedly follow during the coming summer and fall. The banks say that while millions are coming over from London and other British money centres, many more millions are coming also from the United States to pay for the immense quantity of land which is being taken up in Saskatchewan and Alberta by agents representing English and American financial groups.

This is very satisfactory. In proof of the favor in which good Canadian investments are held in Europe, one bank manager pointed to the fact that the issue of Canadian Steel securities was subscribed four times over. The managers were unanimous in the opinion that the banks are in a position "to cope with the increase of business due within a long term of years."

LORD STANMORE

Lord Stanmore died on January 30th last. His name conveys nothing to Canadians, for he was never conspicuous after he was elevated to the peerage. The older generation of the eastern part of the Dominion will remember him as Arthur Hamilton Gordon. He was Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick at a very critical period in the Confederation movement. When Confederation was first placed before the people in that province the result was its overwhelming defeat. It is interesting to know that the government formed after the election was made up of representatives of the old Tory party and the old Radical party, in other words of the descendants of men who had been among the Loyalists, or of those who formed the Maugerville Colony, which preceded the Loyalists in New Brunswick by twenty-two years. It is not to be understood that they represented the whole of the descendants of these people for favoring Confederation were others of the same descent. S. L. Tilley, afterwards Sir Leonard, who led the Confederation party, which was the successor to the Liberal party which had won responsible government, represented both these elements by descent.

In the autumn of 1865, John, afterwards Sir John Allen, the attorney-general in the anti-Confederate government, was appointed to the supreme court of the province, and in the by-election which followed, Charles Fisher, a leading Liberal, and one of the Fathers of responsible government, was elected by a large majority over John Pickard, also a Liberal but opposed to Confederation. Governor Gordon interpreted this election as indicating a change of view on the part of the people of New Brunswick, and he entered into negotiations with Peter Mitchell, the first Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and at that time a member of the Legislative Council of New Brunswick. The government was furious, and the Governor came in for all manner of abuse, a great deal of which he doubtless deserved, for he disregarded the fundamental principles of responsible government in his efforts to force his advisers to resign. They did so, and Messrs. Mitchell, Fisher and Tilley formed a government and the general election was brought on by a dissolution of a House that had only been elected during the previous year. It resulted in a triumph for the Confederates. Concurrently with this election the Fenians massed up the frontier of Maine and threatened an invasion of New Brunswick. There were those who said that this horde was brought there at the instigation of Governor Gordon in order that the patriotism of the people might be aroused.

A writer in the Geographical Journal, speaking of Lord Stanmore, says:

"A Crown Colony was best suited to his temperament, and the Colonial Office, recognizing a strong man, sent him where the work was uphill and popularity not to be looked for; not that popularity would easily have come to him, for deep religious conviction, a somewhat austere manner, and a very high sense of the dignity of his office are not always popular attributes. However, his austere manner disappeared as his years advanced, and the sense of the dignity of his office, which was the occasion of certain stories more amusing than true, never interfered with the roughest life where work was to be done, and the Governor of Fiji was more often to be seen tramping his roadless domain for days on end clad in a flannel shirt and trousers rolled up to his knees than in a more conventional garb. The cry sometimes raised that he was too much the native's man was sure to arise against one whose powerful imagination and strong historic sense enabled him to grasp the native point of view, whether he were dealing with the barbarism of the Western Pacific or the ancient civilization of the East, and was merely the result of his determination to rule with an even hand. Once he was offered the position of Podesta to a great Spanish-American State torn by party conflicts, and the offer presented many attractions to him, but fortunately the temptation was resisted."

Those Canadians, who remember him, will concede this description of the man to be correct. He was intensely unpopular, and his manners were boorish. On one occasion he was in the Legislative Library in Fredericton, and selecting some books, he approached the Librarian with them, elbowing aside a lady who stood at the desk, telling the Librarian to put the books down as taken out by him. The Librarian said: "In a moment, Your Excellency, after I have attended to this lady." The Governor was furious. He threw down the books, and turning around kicked his little dog, which was behind him, sending the animal flying across the room, and strode out to his sleigh. He made himself a laughing stock by asking the Bishop to have the prayer for the Governor changed to read "thy Servant Arthur, Lieutenant-Governor of this province," but the Bishop declined. "Thy Servant Arthur" became a nickname for his irascible Excellency. In Fiji he made an admirable governor. He was a man of learning and ability, but autocratic and ill-tempered. Yet beneath his exceedingly unprepossessing manner he hid a great deal of kind-heartedness. He was a strange compound of antagonistic qualities.

Mr. J. H. Turner's many friends will be glad to learn that he will shortly visit Victoria.

May 30 and ripening strawberries. They would have been ripe some days ago if the weather had not turned cool after the rain.

A customs revenue of $100,000,000 a year is enough to set Canadians thinking. What they will think will depend upon their point of view.

The forthcoming visit of Sir William Mackenzie will be awaited by the citizens generally with very great interest. Sir William will be here on Tuesday or Wednesday next.

Miss Agnes E. Laut tells "the Vancouver Province that "anarchy is rampant from San Diego to Prince Rupert." Miss Laut is a clever writer, but we think she has allowed her imagination to get the better of her in this matter.

The Sheffield Daily Independent recently issued an illustrated supplement dealing with Canada. It does not devote much space to this province, but on the first page is the poem, "A Canadian Prayer," contributed to the Colonist by Mr. W. H. Kelly. The supplement contains much interesting matter.

The attention of the Public Works Department is directed to the Malahat Drive. That fine roadway is safe enough for persons who exercise ordinary good sense, but so many persons, when they get their hands on the steering wheel of a motor car, take leave of their judgment that it is necessary to protect them against themselves. So far there have been no very serious accidents, but it is better to lock the stable before the horse is stolen. There are certain soft places where cars cannot go near the outside of the road in safety. There may be one or two places where a buttress ought to be erected along the roadside. The department will not make a mistake if it looks into this matter.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Preserving Names

Sir,—Referring to your editorial as to the derivation of the name of Tete Jaune Cache, the following is from an MS. of my late father:

"Tete Jaune Cache was named after an Iroquois trapper who had light hair, and who formerly frequented the pass of New Caledonia, and who was wont to leave his canoe and superfluous camp gear at this point while proceeding to hunt in the mountains.

The following which occur to me may also prove of interest:

Pavilion is a corruption in recent times of Le Pavillion, which was so named owing to the British flag having been conspicuously hoisted there. Quesnel River was named after M. Quesnel, a French-Canadian clerk in the Northwest company who accompanied Fraser and Stewart. Harrison Lake was named after Benjamin Harrison, a director of the Hudson Bay company.

CHAMPION THE VICTOR

O. S. Mills, Pool Expert, Wins from Local Player In Spite of Heavy Handicap

In an exhibition of pool last evening O. S. Mills, who holds the Pacific coast championship, entertained a large number of enthusiasts at the Brunswick parlors. He played J. Gibbons, one of the best of Victoria's votaries, undertaking to make 125 to the local man's 100.

Although Gibbon played in first-class style, he had only reached the 83 mark when the champion was out. Mills also demonstrated a number of fancy shots, showed the fine points of Chinese billiards, and cleverly manipulated the ivories with his fingers. He will appear at the same place this afternoon and evening, intending to bring his visit to Victoria to a close on Saturday.

WHAT THE WORLD'S PRESS IS SAYING

Was Ever Thus

Mr. Foster's characterization of the conditions under the patronage system of making appointments as "damnable" has created much comment in the Liberal press, which is not just what was expected. The system as it is is the system as it was these many years past, and if any Liberal protests were in the past fifteen years made against it they created little interest. Most seem to have thought it rather a good thing. It is seemingly in politics as it is in physics. What is one man's meat may be another's poison.—Montreal Gazette.

Century of Peace

This century of peace will have been completed on the one-hundredth anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent, which was concluded on Christmas Eve, 1814, and ratified on the 17th of February, 1815. It naturally possesses a special interest for Canadians. The older half of Canada is immediately adjacent to the United States, and is the portion of the British Empire that witnessed the actual conflicts of the War of 1812-14. The bitterness engendered by those far-off strifes has happily long since passed away, and it is fitting that we should participate in celebrating the blessings of peace which for a period of one hundred years will have existed between us and our neighbors.—Winnipeg Free Press.

The Cuban Trouble

If there is nothing more serious in the present disturbances than a demonstration to help the discontented negroes the force of 1200 sent by the government to quell the disorders in the provinces of Santa Clara and Oriente ought to be sufficient to restore order. It is to the interest of the existing administration to get the revolt, such as it is, put down as speedily as possible, for if there is anything the native aspirants for office don't want to see it is United States intervention. No doubt the negro party will in a future presidential campaign have to be reckoned with even if they should be ignored in the present. Meanwhile they demonstrate in a rather menacing way for office and patronage.—Montreal Herald.

A Co-operative Bakery

The Ottawa Citizen has been giving much attention to the recent increase in the price of bread in that city. The Allied Trades association has called upon the labor department of the Dominion government to take action, and has been informed that the proper course is for six citizens to appear before a judge or justice of the peace and state that they believe a combine exists, thus obtaining a recommendation that an inquiry be instituted. It is thought likely that half a dozen public-spirited men will be found to initiate the proceedings. In addition to that course, the establishment of a co-operative bakery is suggested. That would at least have the effect of ascertaining in the most practical manner whether or not the profits of the bakers are really unreasonable.—Hamilton Spectator.

A Beckoning Finger

The performances of the aeroplanes and the four naval pilots will be followed with the keenest interest afloat and ashore, and the attention of all sailors and aviators the world over is directed upon the hydro-aeroplane, that mechanical sea-bird which is cradled on the Hibernia. Those who watched Commander Samson skim out across the waves to meet the battleships and then rise like a wild-duck and soar high in the air above the towering masts and funnels witnessed a sight as impressive as it was beautiful. It is a beckoning finger pointing to the future—a future big with new possibilities, and it may be added new terrors. But at least it is satisfactory to know that the British navy is preparing to meet them; and in the hydro-aeroplane our sailors and naval engineers have an engine which is well suited to the genius of our seamen, and will be handled by them with all the dash and daring and skill with which they won renown in the corvettes and gunboats of the past and in the destroyers and submarines of our own day.—London Standard.

PORT ALBERNI

Board of Trade Refutes Press Notices of Canadian Highway Association

The following resolution was passed at a regular meeting of the Port Alberni board of trade held on May 20:

"Whereas, in press reports sent out from the headquarters of the Canadian Highway association in New Westminster, B. C., containing interviews with President W. J. Kerr, and appearing in several newspapers of British Columbia, the mayor and council and citizens of Port Alberni have been falsely represented in connection with a temporary removal of a highway post from the town of Alberni.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the several boards of trade and the daily press of British Columbia be advised as follows:

"That the repeated statement that the mayor and council of Port Alberni tendered profuse apologies to the people of the old town (Alberni) for the removal of the said post (calculated to be accepted as an admission of knowledge of guilt on the part of some residents of the city of Port Alberni) is declared by the mayor and aldermen, severally and individually, to be absolutely false.

"That it cannot be shown, nor does this board of trade believe that any resident of the city of Port Alberni had a hand in the removal of the said post, and that the contention that the removal of the post was prompted by a spirit of rivalry and jealousy on the part of the people of this city is misleading and calculated to be injurious to the good name of the city."

URGES PROMPT ACTION

Telephone Representative Complains of City's Delay—Makes Claim for Work Done

Urging upon the city the necessity of more active measures in securing the necessary easements and rights-of-way whereby the underground telephone system may be installed in the downtown area, Mr. G. H. Halse, superintendent of construction of the B. C. Telephone company, accompanied by former city solicitor McDiarmid, waited upon Mayor Beckwith, Alderman Okell, the city comptroller and city solicitor yesterday morning at the mayor's office.

Under the agreement with the company and in consequence of legislation secured from the legislature the city, where the company is unable to come to an arrangement with owners to permit of the running of lateral underground conduits from the street conduits to the centre of the downtown business blocks, is expected to secure the right-of-way, power being held by it to expropriate. The company has already secured entrance in a great many cases but some owners still refuse to sign the agreement with the company permitting entrance, and in consequence this must be secured by the city.

Recently the company's officials had a conference with the city officials and were assured the council would immediately proceed with the expropriation proceedings, but so far nothing, it is claimed by the company, has been done towards that end.

Another matter discussed was the claim of the company for $13,000 which it asserts is owing by the city because of work done in laying conduits upon streets to be paved. These streets are outside the area defined in the bylaw authorizing the underground system in the business district, and the conduits were laid because the city desired to proceed with the paving programme.

At a recent meeting of the city council a communication from the company was read, wherein it was stated that unless the city saw fit to settle the company's claim legal proceedings would be taken.

After considerable discussion Mr. Halse was informed that the matter will receive immediate attention by the city and the action to be taken will be communicated to the company within the next week.

MAYOR'S DEFENCE FILED

Makes Answer to Allegations Contained in Claim of Barnum, Hypnotist, for Damages

In answer to the claim for damages to the amount of $25,000 which Roy G. Barnum, hypnotist, recently filed against Mayor Beckwith and Chief of Police Langley, the former city solicitor, Mr. Frank A. McDiarmid, on behalf of Mayor Beckwith, yesterday filed the mayor's statement of defence. With the exception of admitting that he is mayor of Victoria, Mayor Beckwith denies the statements contained in the plaintiff's statement of claim.

The statement of defence sets forth that the mayor, in all dealings had in regard to the plaintiff, was not acting in his personal capacity but only in his public capacity as mayor of Victoria and chairman of the board of police commissioners, and in pursuance of the duties cast upon him by the sections of the Municipal Clauses Act and the Criminal Code; that he had reasonable cause to suspect and believe that the plaintiff was about to give a performance of an immoral and indecent tendency, contrary to the provisions of the Criminal Code, and that thereupon he instructed the chief of police to stop the performance as being an attempt to commit an indictable offence; that such action was not taken maliciously but in discharge of his duty as mayor and police commissioner and after he had taken advice of competent counsel before whom he laid all the facts.

Mayor Beckwith also denies that the plaintiff suffered any damage either in person, reputation or pocket by reason of any actions authorized by him, but on the contrary received a large amount of advertising which [illegible]

REPORTS ON YEAR'S WORK OF THE UNION

Mr. Williscroft Re-elected President of the Victoria W.C.T.U.—Men's Mission Accomplishes Much

The annual meeting of the Victoria W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. David Spencer, Moss street. Mrs. Williscroft, president of the union, was in the chair, and there was a large attendance of members. During the afternoon Mrs. Williscroft, whose business ability and energy have been so much appreciated by those working with her, was reelected to office for the third time, the election of the other officers being postponed for two weeks owing to lack of time.

The election was conducted by the provincial president, Mrs. Spofford, who at the same time reminded her hearers of the coming provincial convention in Vancouver on June 25, 26 and 27, with executive meetings on June 24 and 28. She urged the members to pay their fees in by that time, so that no financial difficulties would arise, and to send a full representation from this union. The convention will include a mass meeting for women on May 26, which will be addressed by Mrs. Homer Hill, of Seattle.

A large number of reports were read. That of the men's mission on Store street was given by Miss Copeland, who has taken a great interest in the work, and who testified to the good the mission had been able to accomplish during the past twelve months. Perhaps the most convincing proof of this was a letter she read from one of the young men aided by the mission, who wrote from camp to express his gratitude for all that had been done for him. A warm vote of thanks was afterwards passed to Miss Copeland for her work in this connection.

Mrs. Tite reported on the evangelistic work of the union, Mrs. Piggott on the parlor meetings held during the year, and Mrs. Frank Andrews on public meetings, which showed that during the winter months nine afternoon meetings were held in the Crystal theatre, many excellent themes being discussed. Miss Bromley-Jubb reported for the press committee, and said how much the local newspapers had helped the union during the year. The flower report followed, after which Mrs. Gordon Grant read the report of legislation and franchise, in which, among other things, she mentioned the fact that the committee had approached the municipal authorities with a view to the appointment of a censor for moving picture shows.

The report on temperance instruction in the public schools and work among the young people generally was also given, and referred to the work that was being done in the schools along the former lines and also in the Sunday schools, the International Sunday School association having taken the movement up.

The report of the refuge home for women was given by Miss Elliott, who spoke from her own knowledge of the work, no official statement having been prepared. The speaker's few remarks, however, served to show what a really splendid work is being accomplished there under the kindly supervision of the superintendent, Mrs. Flett, and by relating a number of little stories of real life showed what a blessing it has proved to many women in distress.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sherwood, reported, as did the treasurer, Mrs. Frank Andrews, whose statement showed the finances of the union to be in a satisfactory condition.

The ladies also discussed the advisability of organizing in the various sections of the city instead of having one large union, as at present, and finally passed a unanimous resolution endorsing such a step. The meeting closed with prayer, offered by Mrs. Flett, after which Mrs. Spencer, who was assisted by the Misses Spencer, entertained all present at tea, her hospitality being much enjoyed and appreciated.

WILD WEST PARADE

Cowboys, Indians and All the Features of the Street Show Will Be Seen This Morning

The 101 Ranch Wild West Show arrived in Victoria early this morning and proceeded to the Royal Athletic grounds, where the performances will be given this afternoon and evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

There will be a street parade this forenoon of all the attractions—cowboys and cowgirls in costume, Mexicans, Indians, Cossacks and all the rest, with five bands. The horses and ponies are said to be a sight well worth seeing in themselves.

The parade will leave the grounds about 11 o'clock by the Cook street entrance, turning around by Pembroke street to Quadra street, Pandora avenue, Government street, Fort street, Douglas street, Pandora street, Quadra street, Pembroke street, back to the grounds. Owing to the paving operatoins going on, on Cook street, the parade has been somewhat circumscribed as to route.

The performances will take place in the open area of the ball park with the spectators seated in the grand stand, bleachers and seats erected round the fence sides of the ground. The seats are all to be covered with a temporary roof by the show people, being on the circus plan. [illegible]

PACIFIC FLEET UNIT EARNESTLY DESIRED

Speakers at Navy League Meeting Last Evening Point to Defenceless Condition of Coast

"No time should be lost in deciding on a Dominion policy in a matter so vital to the interests of the Dominion and the Empire, and no policy will be satisfactory to the people of British Columbia which does not include substantial and prompt contribution and the establishment of a fleet unit on the Pacific coast."

Such were the concluding words of the resolution passed unanimously at the public meeting held under the auspices of the Navy League at the Victoria theatre last night, and each successive speaker, beginning with the mover, Mr. W. Blakemore, and ending with Mr. H. C. Brewster, in weighty and well-thought-out speeches brought out the unparalleled state of defencelessness in which the important and extensive coast of British Columbia now stands, while Lt.-Col. Hall emphasized the necessity of the people of the province as a whole showing themselves more aware of their own apathy before expecting the Dominion authorities to show greater epergy in responding to their appeals.

The chairman, Mr. Clive Phillipps-Wolley corrected a mis-statement that politics had been introduced into the league in connection with the calling of this meeting, and pointed to the presence of Mr. Brewster and Mr. W. H. Langley on the platform as the best possible refutation. No Conservative need be afraid that in supporting the resolution he would be in any way criticizing Mr. Borden's policy, but on the contrary he would be strengthening his hand when he put his demands before the country. Mr. Wolley then read a wire from the Alberni branch of the league heartily endorsing the resolution he was about to read and also the following letter from the premier expressing regret at not being able to be present:

Dear Mr. Wolley.—I regret that owing to my having just arrived home today and there being so many matters to engage my attention awaiting me, I am unable to be present this evening at the public meeting under the auspices of the Navy League.

I have read the resolutions which you propose to move there calling for prompt and substantial assistance by the Dominion towards the naval defence of the empire and thoroughly endorse them.

When in England, through the courtesy of the First Lord of the Admiralty I had an opportunity of seeing the fleet at Portland and there can be no question of its tremendous strength and efficiency. I can bear testimony too to the great interest which Mr. Churchill takes in the question of naval defence as it affects Canada and the other outlying parts of the Empire.

As you are aware it is expected the Right Hon. R. L. Borden, prime minister of Canada and members of his cabinet intend to visit England in the very near future to discuss the question of naval defence with the admiralty. I know that Mr. Borden is imbued with the vital importance of this great question and I feel certain that on his return to Canada he will frame a policy that will be substantial and adequate for the Dominion and in the best interests of the empire.

RICHARD McBRIDE.

Mr. W. Blakemore moved the resolution of the evening, stating that it clearly represented the views of the people of the province and was in line with the resolution adopted by the legislature last session. The resolution was as follows:

"Whereas, the people of British Columbia have repeatedly placed themselves on record in favor of a substantial and prompt contribution on the part of Canada to imperial naval defense, and

"Whereas, the premier of Canada has, on the floor of the house, announced the intention of the government to confer with the British Admiralty before finally deciding on its policy, and

"Whereas, the British Admiralty, at the last conference on imperial naval defense, in July, 1909, made a definite recommendation of the establishment of a fleet unit on the Pacific coast, and

"Whereas, the conditions which then existed have since become accentuated by the enormous expansion of the shipping trade on the coast of British Columbia by the impending opening of the Panama canal, and by the increased expenditure of the German government on naval construction, and

"Whereas, Mr. Winston Churchill, the first lord of the Admiralty, has recently delivered a significant address in which he specially emphasized the responsibility of the outlying parts of the empire in the matter of naval defense.

"Be it resolved, that, in the opinion of this public meeting of the citizens of Victoria, held under the auspices of the various branches of the Navy League in British Columbia, no time should be lost in deciding on a Dominion policy in a matter so vital to the interests of the Dominion and the empire, and no policy will be satisfactory to the people of British Columbia which does not include substantial and prompt contribution and the establishment of a fleet unit on the Pacific coast."

Imperial Conference

Mr. Blakemore proceeded to say that Mr. Borden had announced that a conference with the Admiralty should precede any action, and they did not complain of the wisdom of that course of action. They trusted him, but they wanted him to "get busy." The speaker read extracts from the minutes of the imperial conference held in 1910, from which, he said, it would be noted that though at the time of the conference the Admiralty did not recommend the establishment of a fleet unit on the Pacific coast, yet they evidently had in mind the amount that Canada was prepared to pay, and run their coat according to the amount of cloth available. But conditions had greatly changed even since that date; there had been an enormous expansion of shipping, especially at this port of Victoria, an increase of 50 per cent. England's commercial greatness had sprung from her position as mistress of the sea. What position were they in today? This coast was absolutely unprotected, in spite of the enormously increased traffic. It was time that the overseas dominions, as Mr. Churchill has lately said, policed their own seas.

Mr. Blakemore then read quotations from the daily press to show the urgent need of bearing in mind the increase of the preparations for a possible war in Germany. This year that nation would spend an additional 24 millions on armament; next year an additional 31 millions, and 28 additional millions for each year thereafter. The people of this province had a special interest in this question, living, as they did, on the Pacific seaboard, open to an attack from the eastward. Big wars arose suddenly out of a clear sky, and he was confident that when the government had decided what was to be done, British Columbia would be ready to do its duty for itself and the empire.

Seconds Resolution

Mr. William H. Langley, in rising to second the motion, regretted that the minutes of the Imperial Conference quoted by Mr. Blakemore, had never been put before the public by the press. If they had been he could not help feeling that Canadians would have been humiliated at the estimation in which their willingness to contribute to Imperial defence was held by the Admiralty. But the voice of Canada had not yet been heard on this subject. The state of insecurity of a coast line of this extent and importance of that of B. C. was absolutely unparalleled in the world. Yet those old fathers of the province who had arranged the terms of Union in 1871 had foreseen the importance of adequately protecting it, and in clause 9 requested "the influence of the Dominion government to secure a continuance of the naval station at Esquimalt." They had no defence now that was a defence, either military or naval, and their coast was a standing temptation to any nation to come and take it, so easy would be the task.

Public Indifference

Lt.-Col. J. A. Hall made a spirited attack on the indifference of the people, and felt that the time had come when the truth, however unpleasant, should be spoken. As a people they were oblivious of the responsibility for national defence. They tried to throw the onus on the government. It was on their shoulders, and the authorities in Ottawa would be wasting public money if they voted it before the people of B. C. awoke to their responsibility in the matter and made it plain to the government what they desired. A fleet must be manned. Where were the men to come from? A fleet could not guard its own base yet, unless it was guarded they were as well off with neither base nor fleet.

Mr. H. C. Brewster warned his audience that, be their politics what they might, these would not serve as a cloak under which to shirk their responsibilities. He personally would have liked to insert in the resolution a reference to the growing power of Japan, for they had more to fear from the East than the West. They had seen the rise of that power and now the big sleeping giant, China, was awakening. Now was the time to move, to make their preparations so that no one dare come.

Nowadays a base must be ready to stand a siege. It was for British Columbians to furnish militia to garrison the base. They had not enough militia in the whole province on the list to attempt such a garrison. There was not a single regiment with a full strength of men who had done 100 hours drill in the year of whom their commanding officers would consider fit to take part in such defence without further training. The condition of the militia was the expression of the voice of the people. Victoria was just one-third less interested in this than it was fifteen years ago. Vancouver was the same and in Nanaimo no man has for some years had the chance to wear His Majesty's uniform. In Hamilton, Ont., employers give 12 days' continuous holiday to militiamen with pay. The right place to begin the taking of action was right here in the province.

He believed that should a war arise this would be the arena, not the Atlantic seaboard. He counselled putting behind them all past squabbling as to policy, and ask only the question "Are we in need of defence?" and if the answer was "Yes," to go straight to work and get one. Substantial and prompt contributions were necessary to protect this great and defenceless coast, and he would go farther and suggest the bringing over of big shipbuilding firms who would establish yards in Canada, and here in B. C. and Victoria. They needed as big a base here as ever they did on the Atlantic. But in order that peace might not be broken now was the time to act.

The supporters of the chairman on the platform in addition to the speakers included Major Beale and Captains Vivian and Waller of the Royal Navy.

It is a difficult thing to close our busy market two days in succession, but we have always found Victorians willing to co-operate on occasions of this kind. It means that today and tomorrow we have to get extra supplies to many hundreds of homes, and have made extra preparations to meet the usual holiday rush, so that every order entrusted to our care will be looked after in our usual business-like manner.

We have many friends that always premeditate these occasions and make a point of giving in their orders as early as possible.

THREE IMPORTANT THINGS WE WOULD LIKE YOU TO REMEMBER.

1. We close all day Monday.
2. We will esteem it a favor if you will order early.
3. We have everything you require for your TABLE, YACHT, CAMP, PICNIC or MOTOR OUTING.

Monogram Oil Lubricates Autos

Dear Sir—

It is only the man that sells an oil that will not stand the test for quality that tells you "OIL IS OIL."

If we cared nothing for our reputation for recommending only legitimate goods, we would have bought a cheap oil ourselves, and joined in the chorus, but we want not only your trade, but your confidence; consequently there was nothing left for us in the lubricating line, but the one automobile cylinder oil that is made entirely from Pennsylvania crude, has never been duplicated, is always uniform and is made to lubricate and hold its trade.

We could talk for hours on this subject, but your time is worth money.

Yours for real lubrication,

NEWS OF THE CITY

Building Permits on Oak Bay—A building permit has been issued by the Oak Bay authorities to Mr. Robert Scott for the erection of a nine-roomed house on Beachway avenue at a cost of $3500.

On Tour of Inspection—Mr. T. G. Holt, general executive agent of the Canadian Northern Railway, and a party of officials have gone up the island on a tour of inspection, expecting to be away for several days.

Poor Clares Nunnery—The building of the nunnery of the Poor Clares at the Willows is now within measurable distance of completion, in spite of the fact that the demand for lumber in the city is so great that at times the work of erection was seriously hampered by having to wait for supplies.

Police Court—In police court yesterday Frederick Hodgson was dismissed on the charge of owning a vicious dog, which was said to have attempted to bite W. H. Dougan. The licensees of the Delhi cafe were fined $100 on the charge of serving a cocktail to a minor. Notice of appeal was given.

Inquest This Morning—The inquest on the body of Charles McCarty, seaman, who was drowned in the Inner Harbor on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock while swimming, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the city hall. The Seamen's Union, of which deceased was a member, is making arrangements for the funeral. Acting Coroner Bapty will preside.

Will confer with Premier—At tonight's meeting of the city council Mayor Beckwith will recommend that a special committee of the council, composed of three aldermen and himself, be appointed to meet Premier McBride and take up consideration of the question of the disposition of the former Songhees Indian reserve lands, and also the matter of bridges across the Inner Harbor at Laurel Point and at the foot of Johnson street or such other street in that vicinity as may be decided upon.

Australians Desire Information—The people of Australia are taking great interest in the progress of this island and the opportunities its development affords. Yesterday the Vancouver Island Development League received requests to send literature to an orchidist, the principal of a public school and a grazier, all of New South Wales. An Albertan desires to come here and start poultry keeping on a large scale, and a firm of beef and pork packers of Chicago ask for information on the state of business here.

Levy Released—After another protracted hearing before Judge Lampman, sitting as extradition commissioner, yesterday, David Levy, charged with arson at Seattle, was released under $200 bail, with the understanding that if Mr. Harrison, public prosecutor, could not today answer the argument of Mr. Hall, of Tait, Brandon and Hall, who represented accused, that the latter would be released absolutely. Mr. Hall took the position that arson was not a crime on which accused could be extradited. The case will be resumed this morning to allow Mr. Harrison to make reply.

Court of Revision—Now that the city assessor has completed the compilation of the assessment roll for the year and will make his return at tonight's meeting of the city council, the next step for the council to take is to appoint the court of revision and fix a date for the first session thereof. At tonight's meeting Alderman Okell, chairman of the finance committee, will move that five members of the council be appointed to sit as the court of revision, the first sesison to be held in the council chamber at the city hall at 10 a.m. on Monday, June 10, and thereafter until the revision of the roll is completed.

Examining Stables—The sanitary inspector is making an investigation of all stables located within the city limits with a view of ascertaining the present sanitary condition of each structure. At an early date a list of some fifty of such buildings will be submitted to the council, with the recommendation that condemnation proceedings be brought with a view of ordering the demolition of the stables. There are an equal number of stables which can be brought within the city's health regulations by the installation of adequate sewerage facilities and the construction of concrete floors. The owners of these latter buildings will be notified to make the necessary alterations.

Choir Excursion—The members of the Centennial Methodist church choir were treated to a most enjoyable motor car excursion on Wednesday evening, Cordova Bay being chosen as their destination. The following gentlemen lent their cars: Messrs. Mitchell, S. Johns, A. Johns, Beard, Cremer, Thomas, Geo. Deaville, Kirby and Waddington. The cars were comfortably filled, and the Elk Lake route was chosen, Cordova being reached without misadventure. There games were organized and light refreshments partaken of. Everybody enjoyed themselves thoroughly and warmly expressed their appreciation of the admirable manner in which Miss Brown had carried out all the arrangements, and of those who had so kindly placed their cars at the disposal of the choir.

Motor Car Prosecutions—Agents for motor cars need to take note that when they sell a car their responsibility for the doings of its new owner does not cease until its registration in the new owner's name. Mr. Thomas Plimley delivered a new car to a client on Saturday afternoon. That same night Special Constable Wilmot found it being driven without visible numbers on its side lights, with the result that Mr. Plimley had to pay five dollars at the Oak Bay police court yesterday, in spite of his plea that it was impossible to get the new registration made on a Saturday afternoon. A Chinaman was fined five dollars for leaving a horse and rig not tied up on the road, and a boy caught riding a bicycle along the sidewalk with one foot on the pedal and the other occasionally on the ground, was dismissed with a caution.

Oak Bay Police Force—The police force of Oak Bay has been augmented by the inclusion of two special constables, and there are now on duty at night three officers.

Police Dance—The members of the local police force gave their usual fortnightly dance last evening in the A.O.U.W. Hall.

Musical Examinations—The University of Toronto local examinations in music this year will be held in the Alexandra Club. The extminations in theory will take place on Tuesday, June 4, at 9 a. m., Mrs. A. T. Watt, M. A., presiding. The piano and singing examinations will take place on a date to be announced shortly. An examiner from Toronto will be sent out to conduct the examination.

Provincial Matters—The width of the Balfour road to be established in Ymir electoral district has been fixed at 66 feet instead of the 40 feet originally intended. Tenders are invited by the minister of public works up to Thursday, June 20, for operating a ferry on Decker and Burns lakes, Skeena district. Tenders will be received until June 26 for making the proposed alterations to the land registry office at Kamloops.

Building Permits—Building permits were issued yesterday by the building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to Mr. E. O. Aves for a dwelling on Arnold street to cost $2800; to Mr. A. E. Hayward, dwelling on Gladstone avenue, $1800; to Mr. J. W. Jones, dwelling on Avebury street, $1950; to Mr J. Reynolds, dwelling on Gladstone avenue, $1800; to Mr. J. W. Jones, dwelling on Avebury street, $1950; to Mr. J. Reynolds, dwelling on Fairfield road, $1500; to Mr. William Mitchell, temporary dwelling on Fourth street, $200.

Car Traffic Delayed—Street car traffic on the Gorge line was badly disarranged last evening at the busy hours when hundreds were hurrying home. A Canadian Mineral Rubber company's concrete mixer was being moved along Craigflower road and when near the corner of Belton street its wheels sank into the sand and loose earth where the street has been torn up. It lay partly across the track and the moving of it out of the way was a slow business. In the meantime passengers had to be transferred around the obstruction.

Confirmation at St. Andrew's—Bishop Macdonald officiated at the rite of confirmation last evening at St. Andrew's cathedral in the presence of a large number of worshippers. About sixteen candidates were presented to his lordship, who was assisted by Rev. Father Leterme, and Rev. J. F. Silver, whose ordination as deacon takes place this morning. The bishop, who was fully vested in cope and mitre, addressed the candidates from the steps of the high altar on the meaning of the sacrament in which they were taking part and on their individual responsibility in the Christian warfare.

Grace Church Elections—At the adjourned annual meeting of the Grace Church English Lutheran congregation last night the pastor, Rev. W. C. Drahn, placed a very encouraging report before his flock. The membership of the church was more than doubled in the past year, having risen from 50 to 120. There has been expended $1,650 for church building and other purposes. The attendance at church services had more than doubled. A young people's society had been formed and the church choir developed. Mr. O. M. Jepsen was elected to go with the pastor to the synod at Chehalis a fortnight hence, and Messrs. Kenney, Frederickson and Mead were elected as deacons in addition to the officers of last year.

New Companies—Certificates of incorporation have been granted to the following companies: Bella Coola Publishing Co. Ltd., Canadians Home Gazette Ltd., Chesterfield School Co. Ltd., Edmund T. Kay Ltd., Far West Lumber Co. Ltd., Island Transfer Co. Ltd., London and British Columbia Industrials Ltd., Milner Hall Co. Ltd., Night and Day Co. Ltd., North Saanich Hydropathic Ltd., Richmond Consolidated Mines Ltd. (non-personal liability), Russell House Ltd., Sweeney Cooperage Co. Ltd., Title Guarantee and Trust Co. Ltd., Traders Trust Co. Ltd., Vernon Lawn Tennis Club. A license as an extra provincial company has been granted to the Brunswick Blake Collender Co. of Canada. Licenses have been issued to the Detroit Fire Marine Insurance Co., National General Insurance Co. Ltd., and the Western Union Fire Insurance Co.

Dairy Certificates—This week's Gazette contains notice of the issue of several certificates to owners of dairy herds in the Okanagan district. A grade "A" certificate under the Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act has been awarded to the herd of J. Bardolph, of Vernon. A grade "A" certificate certifies that each animal has been tested within the past six months and found free from tuberculosis and that the premises are in a sanitary condition. A grade "B" certificate signifies that the herd has been tested for tuberculosis and found free from the disease, but that the premises do not comply strictly with the provisions of the provincial board of health. A grade "D" certificate signifies that the herd has not been tested for tuberculosis and that the premises are not in a sanitary condition within the meaning of the regulations of the provincial board of health. The great majority of the certificates are of this character

NEWS OF THE CITY

Brotherhood Organization Meeting—A meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday, June 5, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of discussing the best means to place a brotherhood meeting on a sound basis. All men who have attended similar meetings in the British Isles are invited to attend.

Distinguished Visitors—A party of English military gentlemen, under the guidance of Mr. R. H. Sperling, Vancouver, general manager of the B. C. Electric Railway company, arrived in Victoria last night with the purpose in view of looking over the situation and making investments. They intend to remain in the city about a week, during which time they will travel over portions of Vancouver Island. Their names are Major M. Courage, Col. Parkinson, Major Bowker, Hon. Major Hamilton Russell and Mr. W. G. McIvor.

Royal Commissions—Premier McBride announced yesterday that as soon as it is possible for the provincial cabinet to consider the matter, the personnel of the labor and agricultural commissions will be announced. The former is to study labor conditions throughout the province with a view to ameliorating the lot of the working men. The latter commission will have a wide scope, its researches probably carrying it far beyond the confines of British Columbia. It will study the best methods which can be applied to agriculture in order that the effect of its recommendations may place that industry on the highest possible plane in British Columbia.

Pastor Welcomed Home—The second anniversary of Rev. J. B. Warnicker's pastorate of First Baptist church and his return from a holiday in California were celebrated by his congregation last night and Dr. William Russell was chairman and the speakers included Mayor Beckwith and Rev. H. G. Estabrook. The programme was contributed to by the choir, Miss Mayme McLaren, Mr. Joseph Muir, and Mr. H. C. Bailey. During the evening Mrs. Warnicker was presented with a lovely bouquet of roses by little Miss Bessie Johns, who also pinned a fragrant buttonhole to Mr. Warnicker's coat. Rev. Mr. Warnicker made a short speech in which he expressed his gratitude at the welcome afforded him by his congregation. The church had been gaily decorated by the Young People's society with masses of yellow broom and marguerites, the motto "Welcome Home" in gold letters, and the figures "1910 to 1912."

Ordination This Morning—Right Rev. Bishop Macdonald will officiate at the ordination of Rev. John Francis Silver as a deacon this morning at 8 o'clock at St. Andrew's cathedral. On Saturday morning at the same hour he will solemnize his first High Mass in the cathedral on Sunday morning at 10.30. This is the first ordination at which Bishop Macdonald has officiated since he was called to his present office, and the fact that the candidate to holy orders is a son of a Victoria resident, Mr. John F. Silver, gives it an additional interest. Mr. Silver, who is about 26 years old, was a student at St. Louis college, New Westminster, afterwards entering St. Patrick's college in Menlo Park, California, and completed his theological course in the seminary attached to the college last week. He has the distinction of being the first native son of Victoria to be ordained to the priesthood. The family formerly resided on Mason street, but are now living on Craigflower road.

A Farewell Gathering—On Monday evening a large gathering of members and friends of Centennial Methodist congregation met together to bid farewell and Godspeed to Rev. Andrew Henderson, who is retiring from active ministerial work for a year on account of ill-health. Mr. Noah Shakespeare acted as chairman and gave a brief appreciative address in a bright and optimistic spirit which pervaded the whole evening's proceedings. Brief eulogistic addresses were given by Mr. W. C. Holt, the recording steward; Mrs. W. B. Deaville, for the ladies' aid; Miss Beard for young ladies' classes; Mr. W. H. Parsons, for young men's classes and on behalf of the Moral Reform League, and Mr. Young for the Epworth League. After the presentation of an address, Mr. Samuel Johns, on behalf of the congregation and officers of the church, handed a purse of gold to the pastor. Rev. Mr. Henderson said a few words in reply to all the speakers, and said he felt deeply the kindness and sympathy that had been shown to his family and himself during the past years, and would cherish always a feeling of great affection for Centennial church and congregation.

SEEKS REPORT ON COMMITTEE'S WORK

City Council Asked Not to Appoint Representative on Ottawa Delegation At Present

Whoever may be selected by the city council to represent the city upon the delegation which will go to present a memorial to the Right Hon. R. L. Borden, relative to the construction of a bridge over the Seymour Narrows, that person will not be appointed until the council has received from its representatives upon the joint committee of the council, board of trade and real estate exchange, a report setting forth what the committee has done and what recommendations it proposes to make. At tonight's meeting of the city council the following resolution will be submitted by Alderman Beard:

"Whereas, on the 2nd day of January last the city council appointed a special committee consisting of Aldermen Cuthbert, Okell, Gleason and Dilworth, with power to add representatives of other public bodies in the city and of corporations, municipalities and districts on Vancouver Island, to its number, and to secure information with the object of presenting a memorial to the Dominion and provincial governments praying that Vancouver Island and the city of Victoria be connected by rail over a series of bridges at Seymour Narrows;

"And whereas, said special committee is reported to have held a number of meetings and to have prepared information for presentation to the government at Ottawa;

"And whereas, said special committee has not as yet submitted, either as a whole or by members thereof appointed by this council on behalf of the council, any report in writing as to what data has been considered or as to what the committee has done or make any recommendation as to the person who, in its opinion, should be appointed as the representative of the council on the delegation which is to present this memorial to the Dominion government;

"And whereas, it is reported in the daily press that the chairman of the committee has, without reference to the council, opened communication with the premier of this Dominion with the object of fixing a date for receiving such delegation, and otherwise acted as if he were the appointed and accredited representative of the council in this matter;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the special committee, or at least that portion of it composed of the members of the council aforesaid, be requested to report at the meeting of the council to be held on the 4th day of June next, as to the progress made by the committee in facilitating the object sought to be obtained by the appointment of the committee; as to what it has done and as to all matters in connection with the work of this committee which relate to the connection of this council with the matter."

Mayor Beckwith stated yesterday that in taking unto himself the position of representative of the city Alderman Cuthbert had gone too far. Not until the council had itself appointed one of its number to represent it did anyone have a right to pose as representative of Victoria, nor had any alderman any right to make an appointment with Right Hon. Mr. Borden without first taking the council into his confidence.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. H. C. Cannon, of Vancouver, is visiting Victoria.

Mr. Eric Gordon has returned after a trip to the Arrow Lakes and Revelstoke.

Mr. C. C. Bethune has returned to Vancouver. While here he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Hicks.

Mrs. W. S. Drewry, Linden avenue, returned home on Wednesday after a six months' sojourn in southern California.

Mrs. W. J. McKeon, Trafalgar Mansions, Vancouver, received Wednesday afternoon for the first time since her marriage. She wore her wedding gown of white liberty satin, made in surplice effect and beautifully trimmed with lace and pearl ornaments. Mrs. W. J. McKeon, of Victoria, received with her. The tea table, which was prettily decorated for the occasion with pink carnations, was presided over by Mrs. F. J. Miller. Mrs. E. Coldwell cut the ices, and Mrs. A. McKelvie and Mrs. Ralph W. Clarke assisted in serving refreshments to the number who called during the afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Teague gave a delightful entertainment at her home on Yates street in honor of Mrs. Holling, the wife of the retiring pastor of the Metropolitan church, and her niece, Mrs. McCrossan, of Minneapolis. There are more than a hundred guests present, who were received by Mrs. Teague, who wore an elegant gown of wisteria foulard trimmed with gold passementerie, and her daughter, Miss Teague, in white voile. Among the guests were Mrs. Beckwith, who looked very handsome in black satin, with black picture hat; Mrs. Holling wore a becoming dress of soft grey silk, and Mrs. McCrossan a striking costume of green voile. The tea table, which was tastefully decorated with sweet peas and carnations, was presided over by Mrs. J. G. Brown, assisted by Miss Bell, Miss Cromarty and Miss Shannon.

Mr. Bimbo Sweeney, of Vancouver, was a visitor in Victoria last week.

Mr. A. B. McNeill, of Vancouver, who was formerly a resident of Victoria, is here on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox and child are leaving town shortly on a visit to England.

Captain Parker, who visited Victoria last autumn from Ireland, is again in the city.

Miss Grace Lang, of Vancouver, has been visiting friends in Victoria.

Miss Rachel Mosely, of this city, who left town recently en route to the east, where her marriage to Mr. John O'Neill takes place next Wednesday at Erindale, Ont., was the guest of honor at a tea and shower last week given by Mrs. William O'Neill, of Fairview, Vancouver.

Mrs. H. B. Jackson, wife of the manager of the Empress hotel, returned to Victoria last evening after visiting for several months in the old country.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. H. Holmes have moved from Government street to their new residence on North Hampshire road, Oak Bay.

NO MONEY TO PAY EXTRADITION FEES

State of Washington "Unable" To Prosecute Man Wanted For Breaking His Parole At Walla Walla

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 30.—Jack McDonald, awaiting extradition to the United States, was released by Judge Grant this afternoon when the intimation was given that the state of Washington had no money to pay the extradition fees. McDonald was sentenced for burglary at Walla Walla and released after some months on parole. He broke his parole and fled to Kamloops where he was arrested for theft. After his realease he was brought to Vancouver at the instance of the United States authorities and held for extradition.

On the last occasion that the Washington state authorities refused to pay extradition fees the judge said that in future he would not deal with such cases unless payment was assured.

DOMESTICS FOR B. C.

Eighty, Under Aegis of Salvation Army On Way To Vancouver

WINNIPEG, May 30.—Eighty domestics of the Salvation Army arrived here tonight on their way to Vancouver where they will enter upon service. The Salvation Army has brought out to this country seventy thousand settlers since it began operations. Among these are a thousand odd domestics. Of all the immigrants last year not one was ordered to be deported. Eight more parties are to come to Canada this summer.

The party which arrived tonight is under the direction of Ensign Penfold and Mrs. Brigadier Rawlings.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN

LONDON, Ont., May, 30.—The National Council of Women concluded their convention tonight by the election of officers, which are as follows: President, Mrs. Torrington Toronto; vice-presidents, Lady Taylor, Mrs. Thomson, Lady Laurier, Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Borden, Miss Derrick, and Mrs. Willoughby Cummings; provincial vice-president for British Columbia, Mrs. Macauley; convenor of committee on the care of aged and infirm and poor, Mrs. C. S. Scott, Vancouver.

$2,500 DAMAGES

Vancouver Man Struck By Engine Secures Verdict Against C.P.R.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 30—A verdict for $2500 was awarded by a special jury in the supeme court today in the case of Olaf Myher, against the Canadian Pacific Railway company. The plaintiff brought action for unstated damages received from an engine shunting near the crossing at the Evans, Coleman and Evans wharf in February last. Myher claimed that he was crossing the track when the engine, backing up without warning, struck him and knocked him senseless on the track. He was still suffering from the injuries he had received

ACCUSED LET GO

No Case Against I. W. W. Strike Leaders Held At New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 30.—Mr. Justice Clement at the assizes this evening held that there was no case to go to a jury against Edward Cullins, William McCarthy and Charles Nelson, I. W. W. strike leaders, charged with unlawful assembly at Yale. His lordship pointed out that all the witnesses for the crown admitted that nothing developed at the alleged unlawful assembly to make the police believe that they would be attacked. The accused were discharged.

Nanaimo Police Chief

TORONTO, May 30.—At the request of Charles H. Leicester, police commissioner of Nanaimo, B. C., Chief Inspector David Archibald, of the Toronto police force, has sent forward the name of Police Constable G. R. Chapman as a suitable person to be appointed chief constable at Nanaimo. Mr. Chapman has had 18 years' experience in the morality department here.

Turned Back at Frontier

EYDTKUHENEN, Germany, May 30.—Herman Bernstein, a United States citizen and well-known writer, was turned back today at the Russian frontier. The Russian consuls at New York and London had declined to vise his passport, but he succeeded in securing the vise from the Russian consul in Paris.

Mistaken for Bear

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., May 30.—Mistaken by his friend for a bear Alexander Biondin, aged 27, was shot down at mile 71, up the Algonma Central railway. The men were contractors and partners and left the camp to hunt a bear which had been hanging around. Biondin had told his partner to fire if he heard crackling in the bush. In turning to his commrade he was mistaken for the animal. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

500-Mile Motor Car Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—After leading all the way from the start to the 185th lap, Ralph Delmar motor car developed engine trouble and Joe Dawson's came up from six laps behind today and won the second international 500-mile sweepstakes motor car race in the record time of six hours twenty-one minutes six seconds. Harmon won last years in six hours forty-two minutes eight seconds. The day was ideal for motor enthusiasts and not a serious accident marred the event.

MATTERS OF MOMENT IN WOMEN'S REALM

Nurses on Probation

We are all ready to acknowledge our indebtedness to the trained nurse. But we do not always think how much her training has cost her. An eight-hour day is the rule for laborers in mines and in the many other occupations. Few trades unions allow their members to work more than nine or ten hours. In the majority of hospitals in Canada nurses in training work twelve hours every day. During this time there is, in the larger hospitals, no rest except for meals. The work is often very hard, not only physically but mentally. Has the public any right to ask such service of any body of women? It is good either for patients or nurses that young women are forced to remain on duty so many hours? It is quite true that girls are so eager to enter this profession that there are always many waiting to enter upon the training. It is also true that a regular life, good food and sufficient sleep help to restore the over-wearied body and mind. Yet there are few intelligent and sympathetic patients who do not know that their nurses are sadly over-worked. How a remedy is to be effected is a matter for the consideration of the public and of the hospital authorities.

Weekly Half-Holiday

A Shop Act has been passed by the British Parliament, which will bring much relief to the overworked clerks. The maximum of seventy-four hours a week, including time for meals, has been fixed and shows that employes will still have plenty to do. However, provision is made for regular meals and a half-holiday on one working day in each week, to commence not later than half past one. A very large class will be benefited by this act in many ways.

The Girl Guides

The effort that is being so successfully made by ladies and others connected with the Congregational Church to establish the Girl Guides in Victoria is worthy of observation by all who are interested in girls. Most older women are ready to find fault with the waywardness of some of our girls. But there are few of us who are ready to devote time and thought and care to helping the children to better ways of thinking and living. We blame conditions and censure parents, but do little to provide innocent amusement or to awaken a wholesome interest in useful pursuits. This has been done by those who formed this first troop of Girl Guides in Victoria and who have carried on the work through the past months. Their example is worthy of imitation.

Firearms

In these days one scarcely opens a paper without seeing an account of some tragedy that would never have occurred if a pistol had not been at hand. A drunken husband annoys his wife and she shoots him dead. A jealous madman fires at his wife and after killing her, turns the revolver on himself. A policeman tries to make an arrest and is murdered by a concealed weapon. A schoolboy kills himself in an endeavor to escape from school. A little boy takes his own life rather than bear witness against the father he loves. These are but a few of the tragedies that have happened lately as a result of what is becoming the common practice of carrying or keeping firearms. Perhaps all these lives would have been saved if those who used the pistols had been prevented from getting them. The fit of rage or despondency would have passed and peace and happiness have returned.

People ought to have learned long ago that the sight of means to do ill deeds often makes ill deeds be done. The power of suggestion is great and the very sight of a revolver often tempts the weak or the passionate to use it. The government of a city or a country has the power to control the sale of those weapons which are seldom used except for the injury of others. It may be said that the madman or the murderer will find a way to carry out his purpose, no matter what precautions are taken. While this may be true, there are many people who are not what is called mad, who may in a moment of excitement lose control of themselves, and there are others who when angry will say and do things which they bitterly regret when their passion is over. It is such people who, with a murderous weapon at hand, are dangerous. Wanting such an instrument they are comparatively harmless. It is not only the excitable foreigner who should be prevented from purchasing firearms. No one who cannot give a good reason why he or she needs such a weapon should be allowed to buy one. It is very seldom indeed that a man, much less a woman, would in such a case have a revolver near. Many lives and infinite sorrow and remorse would be spared if the most stringent regulations against the sale of deadly weapons were made and enforced.

Need of Competent Help

The want of efficient help is being felt in the homes of Victoria and the adjoining country. There is, in many cases, actual distress because the mother who is ill cannot get any one whom she can trust to care for her home. If the family is large it too often happens that the mother is overburdened simply because the girl whom she engages is a hindrance rather than a help. Yet, wages are quite high enough to make a situation in a home pay better than the average place in a store or factory. There must be many girls in the country and in the old land to whom comfortable Victoria homes would be a great improvement on their present positions. No woman who is strong and well and who understands how to work would find any trouble in keeping the average Victoria home in order and in preparing the meals. Our climate is free from extremes and we have the same conveniences as are common to modern cities.

It is time, however, that Canada addressed itself to the task of preparing her own daughters to take up a vocation that is specially suited to women. There should be in all the larger cities training schools where girls can be taught to keep house as thoroughly as nurses are trained to care for the sick or as teachers are prepared to educate the young. The girl of the family who stays at home to help her mother is as much honored and is more care-free and has, as a rule, more leisure than her sister who is a nurse, a teacher, or a milliner. Why then should the girl who takes her place when she is married be looked upon as the inferior of those sisters? Is it not that she is, as a rule, ignorant and untrained? Let housewifery become the work of trained and competent women and it will lose its unpopularity.

In our public schools a beginning is being made in the domestic science classes. If there were provision for advanced teaching and for a probationary course, there can be little doubt that the certificated housewife would have as high a social standing as the nurse or the teacher. No occupation is more important than that which ministers to the health and well-being of the family. It should claim at least a fair proportion of women workers for it prepares a girl, as no other can, for the duties of home-making. To raise the standard of domestic service is work to which Canadian women may profitably address themselves. In the meantime each employer by consideration, kindness, and courtesy and every employee by her efficiency, her loyalty and her good nature, can do their parts in preparing the way.

Marriage in Switzerland

By the new Swiss code of civil law, which came into operation on January 1, the laws relating to marriage and divorce, illegitimacy, the relations of parent and children, guardianship, wills and testamentary dispositions, and a variety of other matters are made uniform throughout Switzerland.

First among the many changes in the radical modification of the legal status of women. Hitherto the Swiss woman has been virtually a minor in the eye of the legislator, but henceforward she will be entrusted with almost all the rights and privileges of a man, except that of voting. If married, her earnings will be absolutely her own property; if a widow, she can claim the sole legal guardianship of her children; she will be able to dispose of her property by will without consulting either husband or children, subject only to such conditions as govern testamentary dispositions in the case of men; and, finally, she can choose under which of three different systems of marriage settlement she prefers to live with her husband.

The marriageable age has been raised from sixteen to eighteen in the case of women and from eighteen to twenty in that of men, but for all persons under the age of twenty-one the consent of parents or guardians is necessary. Even persons over twenty-one if "entmundigt" (deprived of their full rights as majors) on account of drunkenness or extravagance, require the consent of their guardian before contracting marriage.

The new code permits judical separation, as well as divorce, the court deciding whether such separation shall be permanent or temporary. The grounds for divorce are precisely the same for both sexes, insanity, if it has continued for three years, and is certified as incurable, being among them. In the case of a divorce granted on the ground of adultery, the parties may be forbidden to remarry for three years, while the court may award the custody of children to whichever parent seems best fitted to bring them up. Should the court disapprove of both parents, the children are boarded out. The party deprived of the custody of the children must still contribute to their maintenance and education in proportion to his means, but he has also the right to see his children under certain conditions fixed by the court.

The separation a mensa et thoro of English law is also allowed when a wife finds her health or good name endangered by living with her husband. In such a case she may claim maintenance, but cannot be compelled to cohabit with him.

The three systems of marriage are based on a union of goods, community of goods, or, as in England, separation of goods. All marriages contracts after January 1, 1912, and as far as possible those prior to that date, will be presumed, unless an agreement to the contrary exists, to be based on the first system, which allows the wife to be the legal owner of anything else she may have brought with her on marriage and of any inheritance she may afterwards receive. The husband, however, has the management and enjoyment of such property, with certain restrictions. He may, for instance, invest his wife's money, of which he then enjoys the interest; but he must, on her demand, render an account of his stewardship. Otherwise she may insist on a separation of goods, and become party responsible for debts, while the man must hand over not only her share of the estate, but one-third of any income in excess of what they had when first married. The wife may claim that half her property shall be handed over to her at once, and as regards the other half, she will receive the same dividend as the creditors.

Community of goods means the loss of all individual rights to any part of the joint estate. Should the husband become bankrupt, however, the contract is dissolved, and the wife has the same rights as in the case of union of goods.

Separation of goods makes the wife entirely free (except to engage in business or a profession without her husband's consent), and entirely responsible for all her actions and debts; but the husband may demand a contribution from her own personal income or means to any jointly incurred expenses, such as housekeeping. Should her husband become bankrupt, she enjoys no privilege position.

The new code shows marked leniency to an unmarried mother, and is far more humane in its treatment of illegitimate children, while at the same time more severe on the fathers of legitimate offspring.

The powers now bestowed upon children's guardians (public guardians), are very great, and would certainly be resented in England, should parents fail in their duty; these guardians can remove the children, and deprive the parents of all control in their education. In such cases a guardian is appointed in loco parentis, and may be of either sex. Parents thus deprived of the control of their children must, however, still contribute to their support, and cost of their education. Again, if the father be a drunkard, all power over his children may be taken from the parents and put in an institution or with a family.

As regards the situation of unmarried mothers, it is now ordained that they shall always have the right to require the paternity of their offspring to be fixed within a year of its birth. The father of an illegitimate child can be compelled to contribute to its support a sum fixed, in accordance with his own social position, and to contribute thi s contribution until the child has reached the age of eighteen.—Swiss Correspondence London "Times."

WORKMAN FALLS SIX STOREYS TO DEATH

Harry Rhyl, Employed on New Wing of Empress Hotel, Plunges Seventy Feet to the Ground

Missing his footing as he was walking along the cornice, nearly seventy feet from the ground, Harry Rhyl, a builder's laborer, employed upon the new wing of the Empress Hotel, fell six storeys to the ground beneath, yesterday morning at 10:05 o'clock. Though still living when picked up by fellow workmen and rushed to St. Joseph's hospital in a motor car, which was standing at the south entrance to the hotel, he succumbed en route. He was horribly crushed and many bones were broken.

Rhyl had carried a quantity of mortar to a bricklayer on the scaffold at the sixth floor. On his way back he was walking along the broad cornice when his foot slipped. He fell through the scaffold and crashed down through a wire screen strung around the building to catch falling materials. The horrified workmen who saw the fatal plunge rushed down to the ground, but by the time they arrived life was practically extinct. Dr. Robertson was summoned but Rhyl was beyond human aid.

Deceased was a native of Brighton, England, and had been in Victoria but a short time. For the past five or six weeks he had been employed by Messrs. J. L. Skene & Company, contractors on the work, as a builder's helper and had gained the reputation of being one of the best workmen on the job. He was about twenty-three years of age and is believed to have been single. All his relatives are in England. The body was taken to the Victoria Undertaking Company's rooms, pending arrangements for the funeral. The effects have been taken charge of by the police authorities. An inquest will be held.

Last year when the northern wing of the Empress Hotel was in course of erection a similar fatality occurred, a workman falling from the seventh floor to the ground and being killed instantly.

CUBAN REBELLION

KEY WEST, Fla., May 30.—Headed by the cruiser Washington, Admiral Osterhaus' flagship, the vessels comprising the second squadron of the Atlantic fleet, were assembled in the harbor here today, bringing vividly to mind the scene of the Spanish-American war in 1898. Commanding officers have been instructed to hold their ships for sailing orders on six hours' notice.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, May 30.—A serious engagement is reported at Mayala, near Palma Soriano. The Cuban troops used gatling guns, and the reports say inflicted serious losses on the insurgents. There were few casualties among the regulars. The insurgents attacked the Confuents plantation near Guantanamo, firing the sugar cane. They threatened to hang the manager if he attempted to stop the spread of the fire. After setting fire to several houses they departed carrying off many horses and compelling the laborers to accompany them.

Twenty-three But a Minor

VIENNA, May 29.—Frau Leopoldine Zach, a pretty young woman, is being tried for having deceived a parish priest near Vienna in order to get married. Being only twenty-three, she was, according to Austrian law, under age, and required the consent of her father. He, however, refused to give it unless she induced her stepmother to agree. This the girl considered beneath her dignity. She declares that a police official, who was much amused at her dilemma, told her that the permission of any man who looked old enough to be her father would suffice. Taking this advice seriously, the young woman secured the services of an elderly man in return for a pint of beer. After the wedding the imposture was discovered, and the bride arrested.

To the sad disappointment of the gathered multitude the Bees slipped in the sixth in the second of two encounters yesterday afternoon at the ball yard and let go a brilliant opportunity to tie with Vancouver for second place, just one peg below the leaders. After a swatfest in which hurler Tonneson was swatted off the mound and Stanfield, who followed, was tapped promiscuously, with the desirable result that we gathered in the struggle from the Pippins by a score of 12 to 5, one disastrous stanza in the second contest gave Portland just enough to take away the honey by a score of 5 to 4 after our nifty hurler, Mr. Kaufmann, had pitched winning ball and it seemed that victory would perch two times on our banners.

It is the earnest wish of the gathered electorate that if Mr. Van Haltren, the ump with shocking eyesight, ever attempts to land here again he will be deported as an undesirable. His work leaves much to be desired. Had his eyesight been what an umpire's should be the period would have been concluded ere the disaster befel in the second encounter. The second game was presented to the Pippins by his umps. Consequently:

The man we most would like to slay—
The man who roused our ire,
Is he who failed to call the play,
That shameful bad Umpire.

A great throng witnessed the proceedings. In the first struggle after the score stood two to one, with the long end held by the foe, the blond manager of the webfooters starting the second act by slapping the pill over the fence for a homer, and after the Bumbles had evened up when Weed walked and scored as Speas and Harris stood bowing to each other saying "No, you take it, my dear Gaston" while Rawling's easy fly fell safe, the circus started in the third.

Bad for Tonneson

It was a disastrous act for Mr. Tonneson, the famous hurler. Brennan tapped the ball to the palings for two bags. Stadille bunted, and Tonneson pegged wild to Kibble, letting Brennan score. Kennedy hit to the fence, scoring Stadille. Weed hit to left and while three Pippins tried in vain to get under the spherule Kennedy sprinted to the platter.

Three runs were down, and one only was away, Grindle having struck out. Then Keller drove a daisy-cutter to left, scoring Weed. At this stage Manager Tonneson rushed in and presented the can to twirler Tonneson, Stanfield relieving him. Merritt hit and Rawlings sailed one against the fence, scoring both Keller and Merritt. Six runs.

There was joy among the multitude as the chorus sounded while the gong tolled six times.

Consider his Umps, Mr. Van Haltren of the poor eyesight. He presented the Pippins with a run in the fourth. After Moore and Kibble hit Stanfield fanned at four strikes, but the Umps miscalled them and his out at first scored Moore. In the fifth the Pippins gathered in two. Fries walked, Smith hit. Then Williams sent a grounder to Keller, who let it go through, missing an easy double, which would have ended the stanza, allowing Fries to the plate, and Moore's sacrifice fly scored Smith.

Bees Add More Honey

The Bees added one more in the sixth, Rawlings, who walked, stole and was advanced to third on Brennan's out, getting over when Stanfield loosed a wild pitch.

There was much anguish for the assemblage in the eighth when McCreery had the bases clogged with none gone, but none managed to get to the platter. Until Fries fanned, leaving the bases still clogged, however, the anguish was unrelieved.

To make the score of good and proper dimensions the Buzzers took four more in the eighth. Kibble pegged wild to first, letting Rawlings get to second, and he stole third. Brennan walked. Old man Meek, who was not in this struggle, stood on the coachline and he flashed a hit-and-run signal. As soon as the pitcher wound up Rawlings dashed for the plate, and Stadille bunted the pellet to the left garden, scoring Brennan. Then Grindle popped high to Speas, who let the pill slide through his mits, and Kennedy scored meanwhile. Grindle stole, and Weed slapped out a two-bagger, scoring Grindle.

The Second Contest

When the second contest began Kaufmann went to the mound for the Bees, and Meek took Grindle's place on the receiving end, while Doty and Harris unlimbered to do the battery work for the visiting gents. For three frames no runners could get past second, and then after Brennan got a life on Kibble's error Meek sailed the pill over the fence, scoring a home run with Brennan in front. One more was added in the third.

With one away Merritt was safe when Coltrin and Eastley had a head on collision when trying to get under a fly, and Rawlings was safe on Speas' fumble, Merritt going to third. Just then an effort was made to bring off a squeeze play, but Kaufmann let the pellet get by and Merritt was tagged between third and home, Rawlings meanwhile making his way to third, and he scored on Coltrin's error which let Kaufmann reach the first bag.

With the score standing three to nothing and Kaufmann pitching a fine article of ball it certainly looked as if the encounter was tucked away in the vault. But—

To Dead March Time

This part of the narrative should be read with that slow creepy music. It is a sad, woefully sad account. Doty hit. Speas struck out, and Harris being nailed at first let Doty to second. Then Umpire Van Haltren did his worst. He took the victory away then. Fries was caught by about two feet at first—but his Umps said safe, and then many things happened.

Smith hit to centre and Merritt tried to catch the fly with one mit and dropped it, Doty scoring. Then Williams hit to the outfield, scoring Fries and Eastley hit to Stadille in left, Smith dashing to the platter. Stadille threw to Brennan, who pegged wild past Meek, and the rest came in. Total five runs.

In the seventh Merritt tapped one over the fence for a home run, but two were needed, and the struggle ended with the score standing, 5 to 4, with the long end—thanks to the umpire, with the foe.

The contestants have departed for Seattle, where the remaining games of the series will be held. The official log of the first cruise was:

SPOKANE INDIANS TAKE BOTH GAMES

SPOKANE, May 30.—Another pitchers' battle in the afternoon with the home man having the better support gave the game to Spokane, 4 to 1. The Seattle pitcher weakened in the eighth and the home team scored two runs on hits. Seattle's errors were costly in the first part of the game and gave the Spokane its first two. Mscor.e Myers' steal from third to the plate in the opening inning after he had secured a life on Brooks' error was a feature. Score:

Close Morning Battle

SPOKANE, May 30.—Spokane took the morning game from Seattle in handy fashion. Both Willis and Schneider pitched good ball with the former having a little the best of it. In only one inning, the sixth, was there runs scored. Spokane bunched hits then and put across four men, while the visitors, aided by little ragged fielding, ended the inning with three.

PITCHERS' BATTLE WON BY BELFORD

SEATTLE, May 30.—Vancouver took both games from Tacoma today, winning the morning game 8 to 1 and the afternoon affair 1 to 0. The afternoon game was an excellent pitchers' battle between Belford for Vancouver, and Schmutz for Tacoma, each man holding his opponents to three hits. Vancouver's one run was made in the fifth inning when James hit for two bases, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Scharnweber's single. Score:

Featureless Game

SEATTLE, May 30.—Vancouver defeated Tacoma by the score of 8 to 1 in a slow and featureless game. Tacoma found Agnew for eight bingles but he kept them well scattered and tightened in the pinches, while Vancouver found Hunt's offerings when hits meant runs. Agnew deserved a shutout, but Kippert's error allowed Lynch to score.

KEEN INTEREST IN THE DERBY

His Majesty's Entry Pintadeau Stands Good Chance in Great Event of British Turf Some of the Horses

Wherever Britishers foregather, in every part of the civilized world, the main topic of conversation just now is the Derby, and the chances of the various entries. An additional interest is lent to the race this year by the great chance undoubtedly held by His Majesty's entry Pintadeau, winner of the Payne Stakes at Newmarket the other day in runaway style. That he is very likely to repeat the performance of King Edward's Minoru is the opinion of many good sportsmen.

The two best two-year-olds of last year, White Star and Lomond, have both gone down to defeat lately. The winter favorite for the Derby, J. B. Joel's White Star, name of ill-omen, has apparently grown little since last year, and was easily beaten by Sweeper II in the 2000 Guineas, running also unplaced in the Newmarket Stakes. The Joel's luck looks to be on the wane and White Star seems very unlikely to be returned the winner.

Of Lomond, however, much can be said in extenuation of his defeat in the Newmarket Stakes, his only time out this year. The ground was hard, so hard, in fact, that many owners refused to run their horses in the Stakes for fear of injuring them permanently, and Wootton, Lomond's jockey, finding the going not at all to the horse's liking, pulled him up when a little more than half the distance had been covered.

The latest cable news is that Lomond has quite recovered from the effects of his race and will go to the post a very warm favorite.

Of the American-bred Sweeper II, winner of the 2000 Guineas, little need be said; he is now nominally favorite for the Derby, but the running of American horses in the Derby has always been very disappointing, though some of them have won the guineas. The mile and half at Epsom has always proved a little too far for American stamina.

Mr. Buchanan's Jingling Geordie is a Newmarket tip for the race and has a good record as a two-year-old. He may not be quite class enough, unless the colts are as bad a lot as the defeat of White Star and Lomond in their races would lead one to suppose.

Mordred, who has just won a race, beating a lot of first class handicappers, is another colt who will doubtless win many races, but scarcely a Derby.

Hall Cross having developed a wind infirmity may be dismissed from our calculation.

Cylclad, England, Javelin and Montrose II are all more or less fancied by their stables and as the field will undoubtedly be the largest in years, there is a good deal of guess work in trying to find the winner.

On recent form Sweeper II seems the most consistent performer and Mordred the most likely to follow him home.

BASEBALL NOTES

Today the Bees play in Seattle, their opponents being Nick Williams' squad. The two will finish the week on Dugdale's park.

Tacoma and Vancouver will appear on the Everett ground for a series of three games starting this afternoon.

Another week of ball will be inaugurated here next week when the Victoria team will have the Spokane Indians as their enemy.

It was hard to lose that game yesterday. In this connection it may be remarked that the lad Merritt is hard to understand. The stab he made for Smith's long fly to centre field looked like the effort of a doped man. It is the more aggravating because it started the fireworks that gave the Pippins victory. And then the same Merritt comes to the plate and poles a home run.

Both Rawlings and Brennan were off form yesterday. The latter was responsible for two throws, one to second and one to the plate, which were just plain inexcusable. No use talking, that infield doesn't work as nicely as it used to when Lou Nordyke was at the initial sack to keep order in the school.

One of the pleasantest features of that second game was Meek's home run in the fourth with Brennan on the bags. It gave us two and with Kaufman working smoothly and the field behind him strong the fans were entitled to feel the confidence they plainly did in the outcome. But who was to foresee that cataclysm of the sixth.

Pitcher Tonneson is one of Nick Williams' prize twirlers. The Bees yesterday put a serious crimp in his reputation in the first of the doubleheader. The way they lambasted his best offerings was a shame. It was the best inning of swatting that the fans have witnessed here this season. Pitcher Stanfield, who came to the rescue, got his share, coming in for a couple of two-bag drives that finished the performance.

The Pippins miss Mensor and Cruikshanks. No doubt about it, they are crippled at present and, unless that infield is patched up mighty quick, will fall from their honorable place at the league's top. Spies fell down on a fly that one of our schoolboy teams would have been ashamed to have muffed. Kibble at third is erratic.

Kennedy continues to play a most useful game. Two hits for three times at bat was his record for the initial battle. In the second he was not as fortunate but he was working all the time.

Lou Nordyke was on the bench all the afternoon. It is said that he found it hard to keep his place in the face of some of Umpire Van Haltren's decisions. No doubt about it a number of them were away off and one in particular was costly to Victoria.

Dode Brinker, one of the most popular and best ball players ever produced in the Northwest, is coming back to this district's league. President Bob Brown of Vancouver has purchased his release from the Philadelphia Nationals. The price was $1000.

A dispatch from Boston states that an important deal in baseball is under way whereby First Baseman Chase, of the New York Americans, may be traded to the Boston Red Sox for Players High Bradley and Olaf Henriksen. It was reported a few weeks ago that the New York club was trying to trade Chase for Tris Speaker, but the Boston club would not hear of it.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 30.—Departed baseball heroes were remembered on Decoration Day here, while flowers were being strewn on the graves of the G. A. R. veterans in the Federal burying grounds, two mounds in local cemeteries, under which rest all taht is mortal of Harry Pulliam and Mike Powers were decorated with garlands. Flowers for Pulliam's grave were sent here by the American Baseball Writers association. Those for Powers' grave were sent by the Philadelphia Americans.

K. K. McARTHUR

McArthur is one of the athletes who will represent the Transvaal in the Stockholm Olympiad. He has an unbeaten record in the five principal Marathon races held in the Transvaal, Natal and Cape Colony during the past four years, and within the same period has established two separate records for that distance. His best Marathon (26 miles 385 yards) time is 2 hours 42 minutes and 53 1-5 seconds. The state of the South African roads is said to make this much better time than it reads.

SOUTHERN TENNIS PLAYERS TO COME

Elia Farrell and William Johnson, San Francisco Players, Will Play in Victoria Club Tournament

The prospects are that Victorians will see exceptionally good tennis in the Victoria club's open tournament, which takes place during the week starting July 29, as several of the crack California players have announced their intention of making a tour of the northwest. The American Lawn Tennis says:

"Elia Fottrell and William Johnston, the two phenomenal youngsters of San Francisco, who have each, in the past year, annexed an open championship, will make the Pacific Northwest circuit this summer, playing at Portland, Seattle and Tacoma. There they will oppose such men as Nat Emerson, B. P. Schwengers and Joe Tyler who are the best of that section. Chas. Foley, of San Francisco, who won the Oregon State title at Portland last summer, failed to make even a showing against Fottrell in the Bay Counties championship a month later, so the northern cracks are anxious to see the youth in action, Fottrell and Johnston are evenly matched."

AT HALF TIME

If the reports coming from officials of the Victoria Rugby club are correct the 1912-13 team will be one capable of carrying the local colors through the season's contests with credit. There are said to be a number of new men on the roster who are only waiting the call to appear on the field, avowed candidates for places on the local fifteen. One is an international with a splendid reputation. Altogether the prospects are that Victoria will be in a fine position for the matches on which will depend the British Columbia and the Pacific Coast championships.

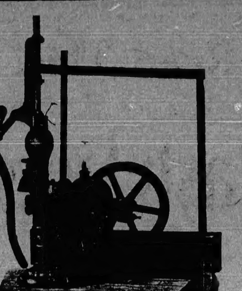

Two of Victoria's old-time athletes, J. C. Bendrodt and George C. Irving, have been heard from again. They are in Australia in charge of one of the largest roller rinks of the Commonwealth. It was some years ago that these Victorians left Vancouver Island to seek their fortunes, and they have since achieved remarkable success.

A cricket club has been formed in connection with the Y. M. C. A. Mr. W. Nelson having been chosen presiden and G. Hewitt secretary-treasurer. The first practice will be held at 2.30 p. m. at Beacon Hill.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

First Game of Intermediate League Schedule Between Capitals and A. B. C. This Evening

With a game between the Capitals and the A. B. C. team the intermediate baseball league will open this evening at the North Ward park. This division will be a three-cornered competition, the teams entered being the A. B. C., Beacon Hill and Capitals. All have been training faithfully and it is expected that the race for the championship will be close. Tonight's game starts at 6.30 o'clock and C. McDougal will umpire.

Although Joe Bayley's next battle takes place outside British Columbia the loyalty of his many Victoria supporters are not daunted. When the Victoria West lightweight steps into the ring for the most important battle of his pugilistic career, his opponent being the fastest Canadian rival that he could meet, there will be many of his home friends on hand to lend him their moral and vocal encouragement.

"Billy" Allen, the holder of the title and the Flanagan belt, is recognized by Joe as being the most formidable man he has yet encountered and the match the most important in which he has figured. Therefore he will be glad to hear that such a large number have determined to take advantage of the excursion being organized to take those who desire to make the trip to Bassano, Alta., for the fight of June 29 and bring them back at the minimum expense.

Leave June 25th

It is announced that the party of fight fans, which will comprise sportsmen of Victoria, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Cowichan and New Westminster, will leave Vancouver on Tuesday, June 25th. A special train has been engaged, which will include both Pullmans and a dining car. The excursionists will be allowed three days in Calgary where they will see Joe Bayley and Billy Allen put the finishing touches to their training and also will be taken on a general sight-seeing trip. Arrangements have been made for ringside seats for all the coast enthusiasts who make the journey and they will be brought back on July 3rd. The interest that is being evinced in this arrangement for the benefit of the sportsmen is so keen that there are indications that the excursion train will resemble on a small scale the loaded cars which drew out of San Francisco and other California centres for Reno prior to the memorable Jeffries-Johnson fiasco. But this struggle for the Canadian lightweight championship is not likely to prove a disappointment.

Takes Joe Seriously

In regard to the forthcoming mill a Calgary paper says:

"Supporters of Billy in Ottawa are beginning to consider Bayley a man to be feared, and Allen is training with the best boxers in the east, taking no chances of being defeated in June. Huck, his manager, will not accompany Allen west, but the welterweight champion of Central New York, one of Allen's most intimate friends, will come with him. They will arrive in Calgary two weeks before the bout.

Already a large number of people have expressed their intention of securing seats. The one big trouble now before the promoters is the providing of enough accommodation for the large crowd that will attend."

MINUTE DIRECTIONS

Japanese Minister Issues Instructions As to Application of Corporal Punishment in Korea

TOKIO, May 28.—The "Official Gazette" contains an administrative order giving minute directions as to the method of application of corporal punishment in the Korean peninsula.

The culprit shall lie on his stomach, his hands stretched out above his head and fastened. Straps are to be passed round the body and round the knee joints and arms, with the clothes so arranged as to expose the hips. The executioner shall stand with his whip at arm's length, the tip protruding three inches over the edge of the prisoner's body. The executioner's left hand shall be on his left side, palm upwards, the right foot in advance, and bearing the weight of the body.

The stroke is to be delivered perpendicularly, and the skin is under no circumstances to be broken. The punishment is to take place one hour after a meal, and the prisoner, if he requires refreshment during the operations, shall be given a drink of fresh water.

The notice had provided the Tokio press with an opportunity for displaying its wit. It is suggested that Mr. Yamamoto, minister of finance, might obtain something towards covering the deficit in the budget by making the spectacle a public one at a charge of a penny per head for spectators.

William Hodge in "The Man From Home."—As everybody knows, Daniel Voorhees Pike came from Kokomo. The angular Hoosier whose portrait by William Hodge, the actor, has helped to make "The Man From Home" the holder of as fine a collection of success records in the shape of long city runs and enormous small city receipts, as any play has ever had chalked up to its credit, carried the queer name of that Indiana village on his suitcase. To show how advertising pays, Kokomo, no doubt through the fame given it by the character, has practically doubled its population since the play was first produced. William Hodge will visit the Victoria theatre on Thursday, June 6.

UNIVERSITY AND GARRISON IN DRAW

Splendid Cricket Match On Wednesday Results Evenly—Wyndham and Sparks Bat Well

The University School XI. went to Esquimalt to play the Garrison on Wednesday. The latter had many of their team absent at camp, but got together a strong team representative of the services. The Garrison batted first, and lost five wickets for 30 runs in a very short time, making no headway against the slow bowling of Finlayson. Sergt. Wyndham changed affairs, however, for, after surviving a very confident and unanimous appeal for caught at the wicket, he proceeded to bat with great vigor, making 84. The school did not start well, and, but for Mr. Sparks, who went in first and was not out when time came, they would have been beaten. Creery helped to stop the riot, but it was Finlayson who kept his end up for over half an hour, and who showed that runs are not always the most important factor. The end was most exciting. The keen fielding of the soldiers, coupled with the fact that the time was growing short, provided a splendid finish, the match being a draw. The scores:—

SHEEP BREEDING INDUSTRY IN B. C.

Hon. Martin Burrell Sending Colonel McCrae to Province to Make a Thorough investigation of Conditions

OTTAWA, Ont., May 30.—Hon. Martin Burrel, has completed arrangements for the promised systematic study of the sheep industry with a view to its improvement. Colonel McCrae, president of the Dominion Sheep Breeder's Association, will go to British Columbia to make a thorough investigation of the industry there and will have the co-operation of Dr. Tolmie the live stock commissioner in British Columbia.

Colonel McEwen, president of the Ontario Sheep Breeder's Association, goes to the Maritime provinces on a similar mission. The minister also intends giving his attention to the development of the wool branch of the industry, especially in the prairie provinces, and to this end he is sending Professor T. H. Arkell, professor of animal husbandry in the New Hampshire agricultural college, to the west for a preliminary inquiry. Professor Arkill, who is a Canadian and a graduate of Guelph goes to Lethbridge on June 12th.

Motor-Cycle Victim

SEATTLE, May 30.—A. H. Pielow, a clerk, 20 years old, was seriously injured today when he was thrown from his motor-cycle in the second race at Madison Park today. Pielow, who was close behind the leader in the twenty-five mile run for amateurs, was hurled against the fence inclosing the course and sustained internal injuries.

Women as After-Dinner Speakers

It is always the plaint of every generation of diners that after-dinner speaking is on the decline. In this day and generation, however, the eternal feminine has come to the rescue. At recent dinners, where both men and women have spoken, it has been common comment that of the two the women were the better speakers.

One clever man, after a dinner in New York, where the women carried off all the post-prandial honors, explained it thus: "The women are not such egotists. Every man felt himself the star of the evening. So he insisted on talking for twenty minutes and more, till the whole table was weary of him. The women had sense. They got up, talked brilliantly for just five minutes and then sat down, leaving everybody anxious for more."

Age-long training tells. For generations the women in every family have sat and listened to the favorite stories of their fathers, brothers and husbands. They have learned the long, irrelevant preludes to an anecdote, the dreary delays and advances up to its point, the boresome, flat epilogues.

They have been told patronizingly that "no woman knows how to tell a good story." And, meanwhile, in their gracious, gentle rôle of audience, they have laid to heart that precious knowledge "how not to do it." The result, while temporarily astonishing to man, makes woman smile—and understand.—Harper's Bazar.

PIER

Pier Island, prettiest and best situated of the smaller islands of the Gulf of Georgia, offers an exceptional opportunity to the seeker after home happiness. It contains only 41 lots and a charming hotel. Thus, when the sale is complete and the last home built, there will be established a little settlement of residents that will find its social centre in the hotel. The latter will be run after the fashion of a large country house with hotel freedom.

For Lovely Summer Homes

Pier Island is one of the most desirable sites now open to purchase. Located in quiet waters, sheltered by larger islands, yet only 20 minutes by launch from Sidney. Possessed of a splendid climate, good water; hotel accommodation for residents and visitors, store, vegetable and poultry ranch, telephone service, daily mail delivery and good boat connections, it is the ideal spot for the man who seeks natural beauty with opportunity for enjoyment and with modern conveniences. Almost all lots have waterfrontage. The prices run from $1,500 up. Literature, maps, etc., of ths agents.

The Connecting Link

At the head of navigation where keel meets steel there is bound to be a centre of commerce. The rich interior of Northern and Central British Columbia demands a shipping port, where its anthracite coal, wheat, minerals and agricultural products can be shipped to the markets of the world. Stewart is over one hundred miles nearer these products than any other seaport in British Columbia. It has a magnificent fresh water harbor and one of the finest townsites on the Pacific Coast.

HON. DR. YOUNG IS BACK FROM EAST

Minister of Education in Possession of Useful Information Regarding University and Normal School Matters

With a wealth of important information in his possession relative to University of British Columbia matters, the Hon. H. E. Young, provincial secretary and minister of education, has arrived back in Victoria after an extensive tour to the east. His travelling companions, Dr. Alex. Robinson, superintendent of education, and Mr. S. D. Scott, editor of the Vancouver News-Advertiser, branched off at Chicago to complete the itinerary of the committee, while Dr. Young, being already acquainted with the circumstances of the colleges then to be visited, came back direct to the capital. The other members of the party will arrive on Monday, when their report will be drawn up and submitted to the executive. This, together with the information at present in possession of the government respecting provincial candidates for the post, will form the material from which the appointment of a president will be made.

The minister of education, seen by a Colonist representative, expressed his entire satisfaction with the trip and its results; and indicated that from the fund of information that has now been gathered together the government would not find it difficult to obtain the services of a man fully qualified for the onerous post of first president of the new university. The only difficulty would be in selecting one from out a number of admirable candidates, all of whose credentials would fit them for eminent positions such as the one offered by the university.

"We went," said the minister, "first to Toronto, where we met President Falconer and the members of the University staff; then we proceeded to Queen's College, Kingston, and met the gentlemen of the different faculties. From there we went to McGill University, Montreal, where we had a most interesting time with Principal Peterson; then we proceeded to turn to Harvard, where President Lowell made us acquainted with what we desired most to know, to Columbia University, New York; to Ithica, where we conferred with President Schurman and the faculties of the great Cornell University; and thence to Chicago, where we met all the people associated officially with the Chicago University and also the Illinois State University.

Interest in British Columbia

"Throughout the entire trip we met with the greatest possible courtesy, everyone we approached in regard to the subject of our quest offering us every facility and assistance. We were somewhat surprised to learn the amount of interest that our university is creating throughout eastern educational circles. Our system here was intelligently and flatteringly commented upon, showing that our educational activities have aroused not a little interest. They proved to be thoroughly acquainted with conditions in this province, and with the steady and rapid march of events, educational as well as otherwise. Wherever we went we met people whose intimate knowledge of provincial affairs could only have been acquired by the closest study. Naturally it was very gratifying to us to find on our visit that our fame as a province had preceded us, and that the fact of our establishing a university on lines comparable with the best universities anywhere in the world had created some stir in the bigger centres of education.

"When we reached Chicago I left Dr. Robinson and Mr. Scott to complete the research work at the state universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota, because I am already familiar with the presidents and faculties of these places. However, it was only right that Dr. Robinson and Mr. Scott should go there and investigate for themselves, so that all of us would have a thorough knowledge of the workings of all the principal universities on the Continent. And that we now have such a knowledge is my firm conviction.

Normal School Work

"While making a tour of these cities and investigating the university systems we did not ignore their schools, for we were also desirous of picking a few pointers in regard to the conducting of normal schools, and although this study was not the main object of our trip we devoted considerable attention to the normal schools wherever we went. Of course, we did that on account of the new normal school which is to be erected in Victoria, and also on account of the normal school in Vancouver to which it is our intention to make several important additions. In that work I think we accomplished a great deal also. From the multiplicity of ideas and the wide range of systems we shall be able to select some things which I think will be of the greatest benefit to these schools in the province.'

Hon. Dr. Young also pointed out in connection with the university classes that the first convocation will be held in the city of Victoria, in the auditorium of the South Park School on Wednesday, August 21. Every applicant for registration as a member of convocation must have his application in the office of the minister of education at least six weeks before that date or about the 10th of July.

To Attend Congress in London

Dr. Young will spend June in the capital, but in July he will again take leave in order to attend the first international educational congress to be held in London, England, under the auspices of the British Government. Representatives from all over the world are expected to be present at the congress, which, it is stated, will mark an era in the educational movement all over the world. Dr. Young learned on his trip that all the universities in the east, both Canadian and American, are to be represented at the congress. Recently Dr. Young received an invitation from the home secretary to attend the congress as the representative of the university of British Columbia and he will, of course, attend in that capacity. Whether the president of the new university will be appointed by that time or not cannot be said at present, but it is understood that the work of selection will occupy some time.

Heintzman & Co. Famous Pianos

This big shipment of these famous instruments renders our stock very complete. We were previously well supplied in other standard makes, and it is our intention, beginning today, to offer any instrument in our show-rooms—including the Heintzman & Co. Pianos just received—at prices that stand for the greatest possible value AND ON TERMS TO SUIT THE CUSTOMER.

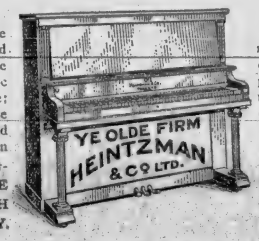

HEINTZMAN & CO. PLAYER PIANO.

Heintzman & Co. Pianos at $25 Cash and $10 per Month

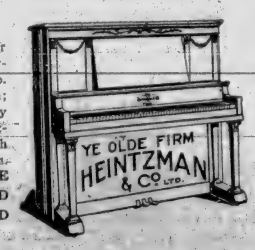

Look over these instruments. The name of Heintzman & Co. has stood for fifty years, for all that is highest and best in the piano-making art. It is from their excellence alone that these pianos have attained a pre-eminence that makes them unrivalled. Found in the drawing rooms of the most wealthy and fastidious, in the parlors of the most modest homes, they enjoy a reputation that is second to no piano made.

THE "CLASSIC"
This piano is made in specially selected veneer, very handsome case; continuous music desk; full iron frame; constructed on the principle of a Grand piano with Heintzman & Co., double-repeating action. OUR SALE OFFER $25 CASH AND $10 MONTHLY.

THE "IONIC"
Made in fancy walnut or mahogany, double-veneered with Heintzman & Co. patent repeating action; three pedals, handsomely carved panels, 5½ octaves; height 4 ft., width 5 ft., depth 2 ft., 2½ in. Price $450. OUR SALE OFFER $25 CASH AND BALANCE ARRANGED TO SUIT.

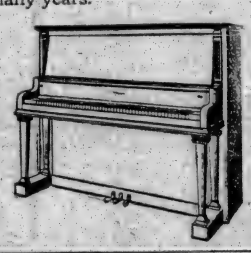

THE "CORINTHIAN"
New and artistic design of case, executed in highest style of art; richly carved, swing music desk, full iron frame, double veneered, Heintzman & Co. double-repeating action. OUR SALE OFFER ON THIS FINE INSTRUMENT $25 CASH AND BALANCE TO SUIT.

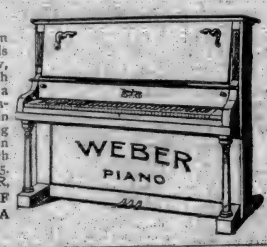

Three Excellent Piano Values

Piano buyers are asked to note the very reasonable terms offered on the three makes described in some detail below. The "Warde," the "Weber" and the "Ennis." The low prices of these pianos make them especially attractive to the young couple just furnishing a home. In the "Weber" here offered, there is particularly good value. Any one of these pianos will give lasting satisfaction and with reasonable care, may be used for many years.

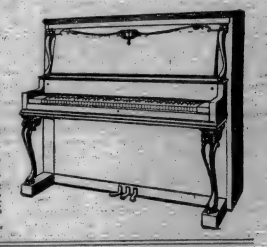

THE "WARDE"
This handsome medium-priced piano, selling at $275, will be found to give excellent satisfaction. Finished fairly plain but richly, its construction renders it splendid value for the price asked. OUR SALE OFFER, $10 CASH AND $10 A MONTH.

THE "WEBER"
This piano has been used slightly but it is quite as good as new, with mellow tone, rich and resonant. It is a very satisfactory instrument, standard in quality. We are giving a good reduction on this instrument which regularly sells for $375. OUR SALE OFFER, $325 ON TERMS OF $10 CASH AND $10 A MONTH.

THE "ENNIS"
This instrument is made in the Louis XV. design and, in the exquisite finish of its case reflects the period of this famed ruler. In some respects there are found in the artistic case of this piano the peculiar art finish so familiar to the rococo period. OUR SALE OFFER $275 CASH, $10 MONTH.

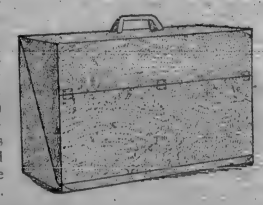

"Thomas" and "Bilhorn" Portable Organs

In selecting a reed organ, the first point to consider is quality of tone. This must be clear, round, pure and sweet, without any trace of harshness, capable of giving the softest as well as the loudest tones by varying the wind pressure and by the use of an effective knee swell. The "THOMAS" organ is today, without rival for purity and sweetness of tone.

The "BILHORN" organ, being portable and compact, is especially adapted to the demand created by those who work in the open air and by campers, travelling evangelists, street missionaries and others. The "Bilhorn" may be carried as readily as a suit case. When wanted for use, a few simple movements open the case and set it up ready to play.

THE "THOMAS"
This standard organ is noted for its prompt response to the key pressure and is a first-class guaranteed instrument. In action and finish the "Thomas" excels. Many varieties of cases to suit all tastes, but only one action — the best. OUR SALE OFFER, $90, $10.00 CASH AND $10 PER MONTH.

CLOSED

"BILHORN" TELESCOPE ORGANS
This organ is of immense benefit to those requiring a portable instrument. The minister in his parish, the church with her flock, the young people in their society, the evangelist and the missionary, all feel the necessity of an organ of this kind. Carried like a suit case, perfect in tone and construction, easily operated, finest in appearance, thoroughly tested and cheapest to buy. OUR SALE OFFER ON THESE ORGANS IS WORTH MONEY TO THOSE WHO NEED THEM. COME IN AND INQUIRE.

EMPRESS OF JAPAN REPORTS

White Liner Will Reach the Outer Wharf on Monday Morning From Ports of the Far East

MINNESOTA REACHED THE SOUND YESTERDAY

Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line Buys New Vessel Under Construction in England and Steamer Hillcrag

The R.M.S. Empress of Japan, Capt. S. Robinson, reported from sea by wireless yesterday that she would reach the outer wharf on Monday morning from Hongkong and way ports of the far east. The white liner, which is bringing a large complement of passengers, left Yokohama on May 21 and is making a slow run. The steamer was scheduled to reach port tomorrow. The C.P.R. steamer is bringing the usual heavy shipment of raw silk included in her cargo of about 2000 tons of general freight.

With 199 passengers and a cargo including 790 bales of raw silk, the Hill liner Minnesota reached Seattle yesterday from Yokohama, which port she left on May 18. The cabin passengers of the Minnesota total 75 and there were 123 Chinese in the steerage. The cargo totalled about 3000 tons. The steamer is to undergo repairs, having sustained some damage on the outward trip.

The Sado Maru of the Nippon Yusen kaisha line is expected to reach port about Wednesday or Thursday next from the Orient. The Nippon Yusen kaisha line, which will start its newest liner, the Yokohama Maru, from Hongkong to this port early next week, and has another similar liner of 8200 tons register nearly ready to enter the transpacific service, is buying several steamers in the United Kingdom for addition to its fleet. The Japanese company has purchased a new vessel with deadweight capacity of about 8300 tons, at present under construction by Messrs. Russell & Co. of Port Glasgow, and the steamer Hillcrag, formerly the Bannockburn, which was at this port with general cargo some months ago.

This steamer, which was owned by the Jetsam Steamship company, Messrs. H. Evans & Co., which bought the vessel for £42,000 last September, was bought for £64,000, a price which indicates the advance in steamship values. The Hillcrag is a vessel of 4936 tons gross, 3156 tons net, and carries about 8300 tons deadweight. The steamer British Monarch, 3912 tons gross, 2547 tons net register, has also been sold to Japanese buyers by the Monarch Steamship company for £30,000.

POWERFUL WIRELESS PLANT FOR RESTORER

Marconi Expert Installing Apparatus On Cable Repair Steamer Lying At Esquimalt

The cable-repair steamer Restorer is being equipped with the most powerful wireless telegraphic apparatus of any vessel in these waters. Mr. J. D. Taylor, an exert of the Marconi wireless telegraph company, is now on board the Restorer, which is lying moored at her buoy in Esquimalt harbor, completing the equipment of the cable repair steamer. The masts of the Restorer have been lengthened 30 feet and the aerials for the wireless apparatus are stretched between the masts at a height of 110 feet from the deck. The apparatus is a five-kilowatt instalment, and messages can be sent and received up to distances of 2000 miles. Test messages have been sent and received between the steamer lying in the harbor at Esquimalt and the S. F. station during the experiments carried on while the apparatus was being installed.

SCHOONER TO ENTER LOCAL FISHING TRADE

Emma H. From Halifax After Stormy Voyage—Capt. Gullin Lost From Vessel Last Year

The former sealing schooner Emma H, 71 tons, has arrived from Halifax after a long voyage of 171 days from the eastern port. The Emma H. was to have been brought to this port to engage in sealing, Capt. Victor Gullin having been sent east to bring out the vessel. A start was made from Halifax on January 1 of last year, and soon after the vessel cleared from the Nova Scottia port Captain Gullin was drowned.

When the schooner put back to Halifax an investigation was carried out by the authorities owing to the circulation of reports that the captain was said to have lost his life owing to foul play. The schooner was then tied up and was later sold to new owners and a start was made from Halifax in December last for Victoria. It is understood that the vessel was brought here to be placed in the halibut fishing business from this port. Four seals were taken on the way out, a boat being lowered when the schooner was nearing the Strait of Magellan.

Captain Zinch, who brought out the vessel, had six men under him. His log reports that a heavy storm was encountered in 40 south in the Atlantic and the vessel was severely buffetted. Heavy weather was also encountered in the Magellan strait, the jib stay parting. Over a month was occupied in beating through the strait, a trip made in two or three days at the outside by steamers. Strong northwest gales and high head winds were encountered in the Pacific.

PRINCE RUPERT OUT FOR THE NORTH

G. T. P. Steamer Took Many Passengers —Prince John To Resume Service Tomorrow

The steamer Prince Rupert, Captain Johnson, of the G. T. P., left for the north yesterday morning with a good complement of passengers. From Victoria the following took passage: Frank Krause, T. T. Johnson, L. LaFrane, J. P. Whelen, A. H. Smith, W. E. Tremblay, J. Fulton, N. D. Wilkerson, Mrs. A. C. Green and family, Messrs. H. C. Myers, J. C. Spencer, Alex. Forbes and R. W. Hibberson. At Vancouver and Seattle many passengers were embarked and the steamer also loaded quite a large cargo, including 125 tons of provisions and general freight loaded at Victoria.

The steamer Prince John, which is being repaired at Esquimalt, will be launched from the ways tomorrow and is to sail for the north tomorrow night to take the place of the Prince Albert, which is relieving her on the Prince Rupert-Queen Charlotte islands route.

QUADRA RESUMES HER SERVICE TODAY

Lighthouse Tender Completes Overhaul At Esquimalt and Will Leave Port This Morning

The steamer Quadra, Captain McPherson, came to the inner harbor yesterday after completing extensive repairs at Esquimalt, and will leave this morning for Prevost channel to instal a steel can buoy, painted red and black in horizontal bands, on the rock struck recently by the steamer Joan, which has been christened "Joan rock." After installing the new aid to navigation the Quadra will proceed to Ladysmith to coal for a voyage north.

While being overhauled at Esquimalt the Quadra was equipped with a powerful wireless telegraphic equipment, which was sent to this city to be installed on the steamer Kestrel before that vessel, which is now awaiting sale to the highest bidder, was condemned. Large dynamos were placed in the lighthouse tender and a new searchlight.

FREE DOCKAGE SAN FRANCISCO'S PLAN

New System of Collecting Dues Decided Upon By the Harbor Commissioners At Golden Gate

A new system of collecting port dues, looking toward ultimate free dockage, has been decided upon by the harbor commissioners of San Francisco. The proposal is to adopt a differential system to be gradually reduced to a nominal charge at most on the more valuable items of freight. ... present there is a flat tonnage toll of five cents collected for each 2000 pounds or fraction thereof which is loaded or discharged there. The charge is the same for lumber, which is worth but a few dollars per ton, or upon silk or other expensive merchandize, which is sometimes valued at more than $4000 per ton.

The matter has been discussed between the commissioners and several of the shipping, lumber and importing firms, and it is agreed that it would be fairer to place the expense of tolls upon the different commodities in proportion to the value.

It has been decided to call a general conference with those interested, and a general plan which may prove acceptable to all will be adopted. As there will be a mass of detail work to be done, it is not believed the new scheme can be put into effect for several months.

In explanation of the possibilities for future reductions, Commissioner George M. Hill said:

"The chief factor which has already made reductions possible and will continue to operate in favor of reduced charges in the future until this will ultimately become a free port, except for a slight wharfage charge, is demanding a square deal all around.

"Formerly the rents for the different concessions at the Ferry building and from other state property were too small. These have been raised to a fair rate, and the result to the state means a great deal.

"The same applies to the rentals for the land owned by the state. When the new improvements of a permanent type are completed and leased, the cost of maintenance will be small in proportion to the total involved. This means that at the time will come when the port will pay its way with the collection of only slight charges, or none at all, from the shippers."

Notice to Mariners

A steel can buoy, painted red and black in horizontal bands, will be moored on Joan Rock, Prevost Passage, at the earliest opportunity, due notice of which will be given in a notice to mariners.

Wandsbek Sails

The tug Lorne towed the German ship Wandsbek to sea yesterday en route to Greenock with a cargo of lumber from Hasting's mills.

FRANCE PREPARES FOR NEW CANAL

Engineers Sent by Government at Paris Arrive at San Francisco—Are Selecting Coaling Stations

The French government is looking forward to the great developments in the shipping of the Pacific ocean which will follow the opening of the Panama canal, and, following the recent visit to North Pacific ports of M. Casimer Perrier, two engineers sent by the Paris government are now at San Francisco. The engineers, MM. Rene Jullidiere and Raymond Douvry, have visited points in the Caribbean sea for the purpose of locating coaling stations for the vessels of their nation against the opening of the Panama canal, and have visited the canal zone in order to make a complete report to their government as to the engineering end of that great enterprise. They have visited Havana and New Orleans, and are now on their way to Tahiti.

"French commerce will be tremendously increased by the opening of the canal," said Mr. Jullidiere, "and it has been thought advisable by the French government to begin early the selection of possible coaling stations.

"While I cannot say definitely as to what our recommendations will be regarding coaling stations, I think it safe to say that the French will maintain one at Martinique and at least one in Tahiti."

From Golden Gate

The steamer City of Puebla, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, reached the outer wharf last night from San Francisco. The steamer had a stormy passage south, having lost a propeller blade during a storm encountered off Cape Blanco.

For Skagway

The steamer Princess May, Captain McLeod, of the C. P. R., will sail for Skagway and way ports tonight.

SOLDIER'S ROMANCE

Swiss Girl Weds Hero Who Was Blinded and Crippled in the War in Morocco

GENEVA, May 29.—A romantic and pathetic marriage has just taken place at Bale, the bride leading to the altar her blind fiance. This was a Swiss soldier named Haberthur, who served in the French foreign legion in Morocco for eight years. He greatly distinguished himself in the battle of the Muluya river last year, fighting for several hours with a broken arm until blinded by another bullet. Haberthur was awarded the Legion of Honor for his bravery and a pension of $250 a year, and was personally thanked by the French president.

Escorted by French soldiers as a guard of honor, Haberthur arrived at Bale blinded for life, and with a useless arm. Fraulein Felix, a wealthy young woman of 24, on reading the sad story of the Swiss soldier visited him. His desolate condition excited her pity and she proposed marriage to Haberthur, who accepted the offer. The wedding was intended to be a quiet affair, but the church was crowded, while outside many hundreds had gathered to cheer the couple.

PHYSICAL TRAINING FOR THE TEACHERS

Principals of City Schools Can Take Military Course Under Canvas—School Board Requires More Money

Strong representations on the part of the board of school trustees will be made to the principals of the various city schools to take advantage of the course of physical training and military drill which, under the terms of the Strathcona Trust, is open to all principals of public schools. At a special meeting of the board held yesterday afternoon the trustees instructed Superintendent Paul to urge upon the principals the advisability of participating in the training.

Superintendent Paul submitted a circular prepared by the superintendent of education, wherein attention is called to the fact that the provincial education department, in accepting the conditions of the Trust, undertook to require teachers, within a specified period to qualify themselves to instruct in physical training, and to this end classes will be formed during the midsummer holidays. A course in physical training and military drill to qualify as cadet instructors, for male teachers only will be given at Victoria only, at militia headquarters and will extend over a period of four weeks, commencing July 8. Teachers who take this course and secure certificates of qualification will be allowed by the militia department transportation charges to and from Victoria and pay at the rate of $1.50 per day, the department also providing all equipment but rations will not be provided and teachers must conduct their own mess.

A course in physical training only for both male and female teachers will be given, provided a sufficient number make application to warrant the formation of classes at Victoria, commencing July 2; at Vancouver, July 2; at Vernon, July 29 and at Nelson, July 29. This course will extend over a period of four weeks. Teachers taking this course will not be placed under canvas. Female teachers will be given transportation and pay at the rate of $1 per day.

Superintendent Paul will later make a report to the board upon the number of teachers who contemplate taking either of the above courses.

More Money Required

In view of the fact that the cost of the Burnside Avenue school will be considerably greater than the amount now at the disposal of the board ($25,275) and the amount in hand for the erection of the new school at Oaklands will also be greater than expected it was decided to request the city council to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers for extraordinary expenditures for the year for $175,000 instead of the $108,000 asked for earlier in the year. This amount will permit of the acquisition of additional property to enlarge the Kingston street and Bank street school grounds.

Trustee Staneland, a member of the special committee which recently waited upon the city council, reported that among other matters discussed was that relating to the change in the position of the new high school to make the structure front upon Fernwood road instead of, as proposed, upon Grant street. He urged the board to stick to its original intention and not make the change, declaring that with the exception of some owners in Spring Ridge who are interested, he had heard no one suggest fronting the building on Fernwood road.

Trustee McNeil, who suggested that a committee be appointed to secure an estimate of cost of making the change, stated that he had been told by a number of ratepayers that unless the change were made they would do their utmost to defeat any money measure which the board might ask the city to submit. However, as there was but a bare quorum present at the meeting it might be better to leave the matter over until the full board could be assembled.

Secure Estimate of Cost

It was decided to adopt Trustee McNeil's suggestion anent the appointment of the committee though Trustee Riddell pointed out that the excavation for the foundations was already well advanced along the lines of the plans which call for the building to front upon Grant street.

Messrs. Cameron, Larsen and L. A. Campbell, of the teaching staff, tendered their resignations, which were accepted.

Mr. H. J. Pollard, instructor of music, notified the board that the singing competition for the lieutenant governor's trophy will be held on Tuesday, June 18. Messrs. J. G. Brown, G. J. Burnett and Jesse Longfield were appointed by the board as judges of the competition.

Mrs. Butler was appointed inside janitor at the Girls' Central school at a monthly salary of $65.

The almost unprecedented rapid rise in prices which has been in progress since about July last, scored another point in advance last month, according to the latest estimates of the department of labor. This was largely due to the effect upon the general level of the strengthening in the price of cattle and hops and their products which took place in April. Grains also are upward while some of the metals, notably copper and smelter developed great strength. Raw cotton, raw rubber, coal and coke are among the important articles now moving upwards. On the other hand, dairy products were generally weaker from seasonal causes. The final effect is summed up in the statement that the department index number moved up during the past month from 134.2 to 135.4. Last year at this time, it stood at 126.4. These numbers, it is to be understood, are percentages of the general levels of prices throughout the last decade of the last century, the period selected by the department as the standard for comparison in its measurement of price fluctuation.

1908. They generally agree that France's supremacy in aviation is due to the fact that the Wrights showed the way.

The Temps says: "Wilbur Wright's death is an irreparable loss to aviation. It was he who showed mankind how to fly."

London's Tribute

LONDON, May 30.—The death of Wilbur Wright is mourned universally as the passing of a great man, who was recognized as a pioneer in the science of aviation. The newspapers review the romantic story of the Wright brothers' achievements as among the most wonderful in the world's history. It is pointed out that Wilbur Wright is the first prominent airman to die a natural death. Comment is made on the fact that it has been given to few inventors to see such surprising advances within their own lifetime. All the London papers print long obituaries with portraits and pictures of the early Wright machines, and tributes from leading aviators, and dwell on the fact that the world probably has suffered irreparable loss through his death, as he might still have made many important discoveries.

Claude Graham-White, the English aviator, announced his intention to organize the greatest flying meet yet held, at Hendon. He will invite 200 airmen to take part in the competitions for raising a fund to erect a memorial to Wilbur Wright. He says Wilbur Wright might almost be described as the "Edison of the air."

WANTS CANADA TO STAY BRITISH

state the case. It is true that I want the country to remain very predominantly British, and that may in a measure have an influence on my work, but my real object is simply to establish on the soil of Canada, and particularly western Canada, the sterling seed of British men.

"How do I propose to accomplish it? Well, I can perhaps best answer by illustration. At Brooks, Alberta, where I have some holdings, amounting to about four thousand acres, I have instituted a system of ready-made farms. These farms are small, capable of maintaining in ease and comfort a family of Britishers, if properly looked after. No extra labor will be required on them, and consequently no extra expenses will be incurred by the owners. That property has been divided up into small ready-made farms, and already a number of them have been taken up by settlers from the old land. At Fort George I propose to develop my holdings in a similar fashion with the same object in view.

"There is no tenantry about these settlers. They own their own farms and are completely independent from the evil associations alleged to be peculiar to myself and kind.

Training Farms

"That work, however, does not exhaust my business in Canada. It does not exhaust it because I think that still more should be done to further British settlement in Canada. I and several others are deeply interested in a scheme of training farms. The idea, I will admit is taken from the Canadian Pacific Railway company, but it is so good that I think it ought to be followed. At these proposed training farms British settlers will be employed in developing and, when developed, tending the farms. For that work they will be paid just as they would be paid on any other farm privately owned.

"I think this scheme will meet a great difficulty, the difficulty of placing men whose capital or experience disables them from starting out on their own account. If they are inexperienced they will gain experience on our training or experimental farms, as they are called here, and if they are suffering from lack of capital, or for that matter from both, they will be able to apply a remedy.

"This work of course is entirely apart from the other and ought not to be confused. There is but a great deal to be said about it at present, unfortunately, because the idea is still in the chrysalis stage. You may say, however, that once these training farms are organized there will probably be more men and boys than machinery, as our object is to give them a thorough grounding in agriculture.

May Assist Passage

"In connection with our schemes it is also possible that in addition to this we will institute some system of assisted passages. But I want to impress upon the people of Canada that our object is neither charity nor speculation. We are British and we want Canada to be for the British also."

His Grace declined to be drawn into a discussion of the political or industrial situation in England, remarking generally that things were in a pretty bad shape. He intends to remain in Victoria for a few days and then return across the continent to New York, where he will embark on the Lusitania leaving on the 19th June.

"Victoria," he said before closing the interview, "is my haven of rest on this occasion. Its beautiful climate and aspect of sunshine has a happy influence upon me. I shall come again soon."

His Grace is accompanied by his private secretary, the Hon. F. Grosvenor.

PROSPECTOR SUES MR. M. EAGLESON

Mr. Eagleson what money he had and the balance in a draft on a friend in Oregon. He went up country and on his return found that the draft had been returned as his friend was away. Crane then went to work for a man named Whitwell, hoping to earn money to pay the bill in that way, but Whitwell was hurt and the work was stopped. By that time Whitwell owed him $63 and he states that he agreed with Eagleson that this money was to be paid to him in satisfaction of his account. He went up country and directly after his return was arrested at the instance of Mr. Eagleson on a charge of obtaining food and lodging by false pretences.

Mr. Eagleson told the court that Crane was constantly telling people that he expected drafts of money from the United States, but they never arrived. He bore with him patiently the whole season and he heard of a number of complaints of other bills that Crane had failed to pay.

ONE DEAD, AND MANY INJURED

The injured people were gathered up and conveyed to the county hospital in automobiles. It appeared that two were fatally hurt. One, George Quinby, died at the hospital. The other, Raymond Chapman, ten years old, sustained a fractured skull and is in a serious condition.

The meet, which was opened yesterday and the first day of which was unsuccessful because of high wind, was declared off immediately after today's accident.

List of Victims

The man who was killed was identified at the morgue as George Quinby, aged 25, a civil engineer, whose home was in Galesburg, Illinois. Identification was almost impossible, as his entire face had been cut off by the propeller of the aeroplane, and it was not until a friend recognized a ring and the laundry marks on his clothing that his name was known. Quinby, who was also a wireless operator, had just returned from Alaska on the steamship Bertha, on which he served for one round trip.

The list of injured includes:

Raymond Chapman, 10 years old, fractured skull, probably fatal.

Thomas Chapman, Seattle, father of Raymond Chapman, cut about the head, not serious.

Mrs. S. C. Hoover, Seattle, leg broken, internal injuries.

Lester Johnson, Seattle, head and body bruised.

Mrs. E. R. Lang, Seattle, left hand crushed, necessitating amputation.

Arthur Steendhal, Seattle, leg injured.

John Wall, 17 years old, Everett, Wn., hurt about hips.

A. C. Williams, Seattle, head cut.

Mrs. F. H. Wilhelm, 3009 South Zenith street, Tacoma, head cut.

Many others suffered slight bruises and cuts, but were able to go to their homes unassisted. John Cliff Turpin, the aviator, was badly bruised, but escaped serious injury. The coroner's office instructed the police to hold Turpin pending an inquest. Turpin's face was severely lacerated when he was thrown against the wire bracing and tubular steel frame.

"I saw a man start to cross in front of the machine just as I was rising," said Turpin tonight. "I knew that an accident would be unavoidable, but to save his life I tilted my left plane to pass over him, knowing that the machine would be thrown, but hoping to guide it into the open field. To prevent it overturning on the track I had to elevate the right wing also, and the sudden swerve threw me just enough to the left so that the left aileron caught in an upright iron pipe, turning the aeroplane into the grandstand."

Premier Scott's Absence

Two other incidents are arousing comment. One is the absence of the premier of Saskatchewan, who is on the brink of an election. Premier Scott, who has been an absentee premier for the last year or two, was advertised as accepting the invitation and some reference to the impending struggle was expected. He did not, however, appear and no explanation of his absence so far has been published. His failure to attend is attracting some mention as it will be uncomfortable for the men of the Liberal cabinet of Saskatchewan.

Another circumstance is the ignoring of Mr. Fielding, in addition to several provincial leaders. Messrs. Guthrie and A. K. Maclean were called upon for speeches, but the former finance minister, the negotiator of the reciprocity agreement, did not address the audience, an incident which occurs simultaneously with the arrival of a rumor that the Liberals of Manitoba have asked Mr Fielding to be their candidate in the approaching by-election. The Manitoba Liberals thus are not quite in line with eastern Liberals. The passing over of Mr. Fielding is a more significant comment upon the attitude of eastern Liberals towards reciprocity than the interesting inaccuracies on Sir W. Laurier.

"YOU'LL LIKE OUR CLOTHES"—Registered

"I WAS CHEATED ON THAT SUIT"—

You have heard that said many a time, no doubt. Perhaps you have SAID it and FELT it yourself. But, no one ever said it truthfully, about one of our suits. We like to deal with the particular man, the fastidious man, the "well-groomed" man. By a "well-groomed" man people usually mean a well-dressed man, one who appreciates correct style, faultless tailoring, quality of material. This type of man is given favorable comment, commands attention. There's nothing wonderful about the way he does it. It's generally by wearing.

"Proper Clothes"

"Proper Clothes" are honest clothes. They give us as much satisfaction in selling them as our scores of customers find in wearing them. Made in Hamilton, Ont., in one of the largest clothing factories in the Dominion, amid happy surroundings, they are the product of refined skill. They are designed by a Boston art designer who is paid a very large salary and they are cut by an expert who is also highly paid. The materials used are the best imported goods procurable, bought in large quantities. The work on "Proper Clothes" is the very highest grade, as much of it is done by hand as the average merchant tailor does in the suits he makes. The prices we charge represent

HONEST SUIT VALUES

SLENDER MEN—We specialize in clothes for slender men—suits that make unusual allowance for the peculiarities of physique. We carry them in the finest Bannockburn tweeds, in worsteds, serges, cheviots and mixed, in the very latest styles. These suits are made with semi and full peg top trousers and with or without cuff bottoms. For slender men they are the apex of value and satisfaction.

$20, $25, $30

STOUT MEN—These suits are designed to meet the needs of men whose figures deviate from the normal on the side of stoutness. Sizes run from 38 to 48, but in each size there are nicely graded differences in the proportion between chest and waist measurement. These suits are made up in the same excellent quality of materials as the slender men's and help to make a stout man look shaplier.

$20, $25, $30

REGULARS—Suits made to ordinary measure are termed "regulars." In the old days, when ready-to-wear clothing manufactured was a new thing, all suits were made to regular measure, based on normal physical proportions. We carry these for the men who are of normal or regular build, and we have them in exactly the same wide range of styles and materials described in our lines for slender and stout men.

$20, $25, $30

Special Serges—$25, $30

TWILLED SERGE—In this standard material we carry some of the best suit values ever offered in Victoria. These, too, are of the famous "Proper Clothes" brand and made up to suit different types of physique. The serge used is pre-shrunk, fast-dyed prime quality cloth and the workmanship and finish are superb. Useful for all occasions.

Summer Suits at $15, $18 and $20

The Victoria climate is remarkable for its equability, but the summer season now at hand will render it desirable to have a suit or two of lighter weight. To meet this demand we have an exceptionally good line at standard prices of $15, $18 and $20. These suits we are showing now in two and three-piece styles. The materials used are the best and most reliable woolen fabrics and the tailoring is excellent. These suits in the new two-button effects, both light and dark shades, are just the thing for business wear during the next three months.

Special Values in High Grade Straws

BOATERS—These are exceptionally good straw hats, close-braided, pencil curled edges, satin lined with imitation alligator leather sweat bands. Cool, light and comfortable. The maker's name—Brigham Hopkins—insures the general quality. Regular price, $3.50—OUR SPECIAL PRICE $1.75

Standard lines in all the new shapes, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00

PANAMAS—Genuine Panama Straws, product of the same famous maker as manufactured our special boaters—Brigham Hopkins. These hats may be seen any day on the heads of the best-dressed, most particular men in town. Pencil-curled brims, finished beautifully inside and out. "Don't worry your head." Get one of these. Regularly sold at $10.00—OUR SPECIAL PRICE $7.50

New Furnishings For Saturday Selling

Something new and catchy in the famous "Arrow" brand Shirts. Made in the coat style, in neat designs of black and white, striped and black and white, plaited. These are neat pin stripes and make a remarkably reserved and taking pattern. Collars to match, for summer wear—Special Tomorrow $1.50

FIVE acres improved orchard land, only four miles from city hall; 250 fruit trees just come into bearing, only a short distance from new Saanich car line; price far below prevailing prices of adjoining land; this will not last many days; see owner, 301 Pemberton block.

FOR sale, 90 to 100 acres at Retreat Cove, Galiano Island Retreat Cove is a beautiful little harbor on the west and sheltered side of Galiano Island; there are several small islands at the entrance of the cove, making it almost land-locked; there is a lovely beach fringed with maple, arbutus and fir trees, making this an ideal building site. The government wharf is here, the s.s. Joan carrying the mail and making regular calls. There is also a plentiful supply of spring water at the cove. The 100 acres for sale gives a frontage on this harbor. The land on the shore and from there to some distance from the shore is bench land very suitable for fruit, especially for apple orchards. It has been abundantly proved by the orchards at present bearing on the island that this character of soil is well suited for apple culture. There is sufficient natural drainage, the soil is loose and does not cake readily, and the climatic conditions seem to be all that is necessary for the best production of such varieties as the King of Thompkins Co. or the Baldwin, where high color is one of the necessary adjuncts to a No. 1 grade. There orchards are in evidence today and a visit to the island will prove the adaptibility of the soil and suitability of the climate. The special feature of the property, however, is a piece containing 18 acres. This has been a beaver dam. The piece is without a stump, lovely deep black loam from 4 to 7 feet deep. An open drain runs through the centre. There is absolutely no more fertile soil anywhere for small fruit growing, market gardening, rhubarb, or for hay or oats it is particularly adapted. Such land cleared as this is worth $150 per acre at the least. Beckett, Major and Co., Ltd., 643 Fort st.; telephones 3515 and 2967.

FOR sale—Six acres, more or less, of good sand and gravel; close to C. P. R. track; level and easy to take out; a great depth. Highest bidder over $7000 will be received up till June 3rd. Will be given out June 4th. Address Box 71, Colonist.

FOR sale—Double corner on Taylor street, Dean Heights, for $2000, for quick sale. Mornings only. A. Bruce Powley, 415 Pemberton Bldg., Phone 2091.

FOR sale, leaving town shortly, offer 50 acres waterfront at Chemainus for $150 per acre if sold by Monday next. Apply owner, Box 254 Colonist.

PORT Hardy, the terminus of the railway system of Vancouver Island.

PORT Hardy—Lots for sale at from $115 on easy terms; cash $38, in six months $26, in twelve months $26, in eighteen months $25, with interest at 7 per cent per annum on the deferred payments.

PORT Hardy—Lots on easy terms; after the first payment of $33 the terms are practically only $4.33 per month.

PORT Hardy—See the new map issued by the government of British Columbia showing the railway system of Vancouver Island with the northern terminus at Port Hardy.

PORT Hardy is on the trade route from Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and Vancouver to Prince Rupert and Alaska.

PORT Hardy is the point at which all the steamers on the inside route to northern ports pass en route to their destination.

PORT Hardy is the port at which soon all the fishery steamers will land their catch, thereby saving a distance of 425 miles to Vancouver and return.

PORT Hardy will be the terminus of the Bute Inlet railway at the north of this island, fish, lumber, etc., can be shipped direct from this point to the Northwest. Timber now towed to Vancouver mills and shipped via the C. P. R. will be cut at Hardy Bay and shipped to eastern points.

PORT Hardy is surrounded by coal fields and in the near future there is little doubt but what coal mines will be opened in the vicinity of Port Hardy.

PORT Hardy is only about 8 miles from Quatsino Sound and the passengers and freight trade from this harbor will increase rapidly, owing to the fine steamer service from Hardy Bay, also by traveling from Hardy Bay the rough voyage on the west coast of Vancouver Island will be avoided; as an investment there is no better buy than a lot at Port Hardy; some of the most conservative citizens in Victoria have lately invested such amounts as $50,000, $42,500, $16,000, $14,000 in Port Hardy and the immediate locality.

CROFTON lots are selling readily over $11,000 sold in the last two weeks, the reason being that Crofton is the terminus of the new railway to Cowichan Lake and will be the centre of the largest lumbering industry on the east coast of Vancouver Island; lots can be bought at present time for $100, terms, third cash and the balance in 6, 12 and 18 months, with 7 per cent. interest; no rock; Osborne is one of the finest harbors on Vancouver Island.

MONEY to loan on buildings, offices and stores, or for the erection of same, also wanted to purchase agreements of sale.

FARMS—About 75 farms for sale.

MYSTERY IN PLOT TO KILL HIGH OFFICIAL

Russian Police Unable To Connect the Links In a Case of Conspiracy To Assassinate Minister

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—A plot to assassinate M. Kasso, Minister of Education, has been discovered through the weakness of the unhappy girl chosen to kill the victim. The guard at the Minister's house has been strengthened, and the police are working day and night to elucidate one of the most mysterious affairs that has excited public attention in Russia for many years.

The utmost secrecy is being maintained, but details of the story on which the police are working are leaking out. It is now known that on a recent afternoon a policeman stationed in Nikolaievsky street saw a young woman, who was passing him in a cab, take a little bottle from her pocket and drink the contents. Her evident agitation made the man fear that the mixture was poison, and he stopped the cab. His fears were justified, for as he stepped up to it the girl fell back in a state of unconsciousness.

The victim was at once taken to the Marie hospital, where an antidote was given her, which saved her life, and she was placed in one of the wards for further treatment. Sister Vera, a young nurse of eighteen, was placed in charge of the patient during the night. The unfortunate girl suffered a good deal, and for hours she disturbed the ward by shrieking disconnected words and phrases: "The fatal lot!" "Murder!" "I myself perish!"

At six o'clock in the morning Sister Vera said she was feeling unwell, and asked to be relieved; another nurse was sent to take her place. A few hours later the patient was quieter. When asked her name she refused to give it, and asked to be registered as an unknown girl. This was mentioned to the police official who had come to get particulars about the case, and he telephoned to his chief to ask for instructions. He was told to wait, and in a quarter of an hour Captain Mikhailoff, a superintendent of police, arrived in the ward to conduct the inquiry himself.

The patient had been allowed to get up, and was standing in the ward when the superintendent arrived. The instant she saw him, she shrieked and fell to the ground in a faint. The officer's suspicions were aroused, and he examined the girl's pocket, in which was found a letter directed to another police official. In it the writer stated that she had drawn the lot to murder the Minister of Education, and that she had therefore determined to commit suicide. The letter, evidently written under the influence of great emotion, ended with a number of quotations from a poem about "red and white roses."

The head of the secret police was at once summoned, and the girl, who still refused to give her name, was removed under an escort of gendarmes to the hospital of the Cross Prison. Whether she is an "agent provocateur" or actually a terrorist remains uncertain, but it is possible that the letter found in her possession was written as a blind.

She had hardly left the Marie hospital before a nurse came to one of the doctors and said: "A terrible thing has happened; Sister Vera has poisoned herself." It was only too true. The young nurse was lying dead on her bed with a bottle of poison at her side. What were the motives of her suicide is unknown, but the police are following up the matter, and there seems some probability that the revelations made to her in the wild cries of the patient she had to attend may have warned her that a secret to which she was also a party was being revealed. This, at any rate, is the theory of the police.

A second suicide has now deepened the mystery of the affair. A policeman stationed outside the "Bouffe," a pleasure garden with a cafe-chantant, heard a revolver fired, and the shot was followed by a wild cry for help from a girl in a taxi-cab. The policeman rushed to the cab and found that the girl's companion had shot himself and was dead. The body was taken to a neighboring hospital and the girl driven to the nearest police station, where she gave her and name and address and stated that she had met the dead man by chance that evening in the train from Gachina to St. Petersburg and that they had arranged to go to the "Bouffe" together. She was perfectly calm and, in a business-like way, said that her companion had seemed very gloomy, and had told her that he feared she would regret having met him. He had suddenly produced a revolver, and before she could realize what he was doing, had shot himself.

The girl was allowed to go home; she had told her story in so straightforward a fashion that it did not occur to the police to doubt her word. It has now been discovered, however, that her companion was an official of the Ministry of Justice, Andrew Kusnyetzeff, and that in his pocket-book was a newspaper cutting of the story of the unknown girl chosen to assassinate M. Kasso. It had evidently been carefully studied, for certain words were underlined in blue pencil.

This raised the suspicions of the police, and they at once went to the address given by the girl who had been with the young official at the moment of his death. They were surprised to find that nobody at the house knew anything about her, and woke up to the fact that she had deceived them. They are now searching for her, and up to the present have not succeeded in finding her. All the papers at M. Kusnyetzoff's home have been seized.

The mysterious girl who is the central figure in this melodramatic story is said to have given important evidence to the police. Her photograph has been sent broadcast to police stations and to the higher educational establishments. She states that she is a student, but none of the authorities at the university or other colleges frequented by women have recognized her photograph. The impression is growing that she is an "agent provocateur," charged by the police to arrange a plot and then betray the conspirators. The plan, according to this theory, broke down when she herself drew the fatal lot to assassinate the Minister. The punishment for failure is death, and, knowing herself doomed, the girl resolved on suicide.

A great number of houses have been searched in connection with the affair, which remains one of the most extraordinary known here for years.

AMUSEMENTS

Wild West Show Today—The paraphernalia of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, together with its army of cowboys and other characteristic ranch people, will be landed in Victoria at an early hour this morning. There will be no delay in transferring the show to the Royal Athletic park, which is to be the home of the aggregation during the next two days. There are nearly twenty tents, and each has its necessary and important place in the city of canvas. Naturally the first to be erected will be the cook and dining tents and the horse pavilions. Then the big arena will assume shape. Although this is open to the sky in the centre, owing to the character of the performance, the seats are covered with waterproof canvas, and are protected alike from the sun and the rain. The open canvas has the advantage of never being stuffy or unpleasant, and is always light and attractive. While the arena is going up the Indians will be erecting their tepees and establishing their camp at the end of the long exhibitional concourse. The multiplicity of tents, the handsome horses, the Indians, the cowgirls in all their brightest bravery of costume, the Mexicans, the Cossacks and all the other characteristic people with the show will give the morning hours on the show grounds an alluring interest for the curious crowds. The first real event of the day, however, will be the preliminary street parade. It will be a mile in length and will leave Recreation park about 10.30 o'clock. Many novel features are promised. The old life of the plains will be typified by a caravan of prairie schooners, drawn by long-horned Texas steers; by an old stage coach drawn by army mules, and driven by Rocky Mountain Hank, one of the last of the old overland drivers, and by floats with tableaux-vivants displaying scenes and incidents during the days when the hardy pioneers were winning the West. In the line will also be hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls, Indian braves and their squaws, mounted on ponies, with the pappooses drawn in the genuine Indian "travaeux," Mexican vacqueros, Cossacks and other interesting people; bucking broncbos, Indian mustangs, wild steers and a herd of buffaloes. The route of the parade will be the usual one over the principal downtown streets. The initial performance will follow at 2.15. There will also be performances tonight at 8.15 and Saturday afternoon and night. Each, it is announced will be complete in every way. The performance will open with a general review and line-up of the various Wild West celebrities. Then will follow a diversified programme, including the pony express; the capture and punishment of a horse-thief; the hold-up of the stage coach by Mexican bandits and their repulse by cowboys and Scouts under the direction of Joseph C. Miller, the noted ranchman; a round-up, utilizing 30 long-horned steers, and affording opportunities for some remarkable exhibitions of roping; an exhibition of broncho-busting by well-known cowboy and cowgirl rough riders; an attack by Indians on a pioneer's camp, and other interesting, and often thrilling, events. Seats for all the performances will be on sale at Montellus Music Co.'s store beginning this morning.

Blanche Bates—No more irresistably witty or more cleverly constructed comedy has been seen in years than the latest vehicle utilized by David Belasco to exploit his popular star, Blanche Bates, at the Victoria Theatre for Monday, June 3. "Nobody's Widow" is the extremely novel and unusual title given by the author, Avery Hopwood, and reports speak most glowingly of the play, star, and production. Miss Bates is most happily cast in the very unconventional role of a widow with limitations. That is, a dashing woman who, dressing like a widow, avows to her friends that she is a widow, and thereby becomes involved in a deliciously humorous romance that necessitates three acts of brilliant acting to untangle. Bruce McRae, Adelaide Prince, Edith Campbell, Alice Claire Elliott, Minor S. Watson, and others assist Miss Bates in the mirth-making, aided by a production and accessories that bear the stamp of David Belasco's wonderful stage craft.

Empress Theatre—Large audiences are the rule at the Empress theatre this week, the excellent bill provided having appealed to the patrons of vaudeville. The sketch, one of Will Cressy's best, entitled "Jimmy Pinkerton's First Case" which is presented by two talented players, Eddie Herron, a comedian of considerable reputation and Miss Madge Douglas, is a great success. It is an amusing act, and merits the loud applause which marks its presentation at every performance. Nat Carr, a purveyor of comedy who has few equals as a laugh-provoker, is vying with the playlet for headline honors. Mr. Carr is an excellent comedian, and his characterizations are artistic indeed. He tells some droll stories, and sings some good parodies. He is encored several times at each performance. May and Frank Luce, offer some oddities in instrumental music. A blackface comedy act which includes all the features of a minstrel first part, good singing, dancing and merry dialogue, is contributed by those well-known minstrel men, William Hines and Frank Marron, both of whom have had much experience with big burnt cork aggregations, and Harry Thriller, gymnast and balancer, performs some splendid feats of balancing, the greater part of his work being done on a pyramid of chairs and tables.

Majestic Theatre—"Cowboy Damon and Phythias" heads the list of features today and tomorrow at the Majestic Theatre. Western honor and friendship. Tried by the crucial test of willingness to die that the other might live. They both live to enjoy the friendship so firmly made in the Grand Canon of Colorado, where the incidents occurred. "The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter." This dramatic story depicts the sorrow of a seaman whose sweetheart married another man. Her husband supposedly lost at sea, she returns home. Again his heart took hope only to be shattered by his consciousness of right in saving his rival's life when he found him unconscious on a coral reef. "One is business, the other crime." The pleasing quality that marks this picture comes largely from its sincere acting, the grace of its sets and back grounds, its very artistic photography, and its moral purpose. "Karlberg War School," a good educational picture. "Rival Constables," a rural comic character farce, very laughable.

Crystal Theatre—"Culligan's Nashville Students," one hour of wit and humor is on today and tomorrow, four shows a day, at the matinee you will see four reels of pictures as well, all for ten cents. This is the biggest vaudeville act on the western circuit and consists of ten people. The first part of their act consists of chorus work, solos, quartettes and comic sayings. The second part of monologues. Sketches, and some of the best dancing you have ever seen. The last part of the act consists of a hoop rolling act that is not equalled any place in the world. It only remains to be seen to be appreciated. This act was brought here at a great deal of expense and am sure our patrons will appreciate it. First show, today, starts at 2 o'clock, pictures start at 1:30 o'clock. At night pictures at 6:30 o'clock and the first vaudeville at 7:30 o'clock. Two reels of pictures in connection with this big act. There is an entire change of pictures for today. "His Wife's Mother" is an excellent Lubin drama; "Diamond S Ranch," a Selig Western embracing some of the best riding, lariet throwing and bucking horses yet seen in moving pictures "Monsieur" is an Edison drama; "Archibald Clubbs and the Widow" is an Edison comedy. This is the biggest show we have yet put on and you will miss something if you do not see it. Remember the price is ten cents, just the same for the big acts as the smaller ones. Come early and get the benefit of the good seats. No matter how hot it is outside you will be cool in the Crystal. We have just installed one of the largest exhaust fans in British Columbia, which completely fills the theatre with fresh new air every five minutes. This fan has a capacity of 37,000 cubit feet every five minutes, which will keep the temperature at an even basis with no drafts at all times.

TENDERS

Tenders will be received for that piece of land on Store Street known as No. 1415 now occupied by the W. C. T. U. Mission, comprising property measuring 72 feet frontage on Store Street with 60 feet depth, with a two storey brick building and basement. Tenders must be in by June 10th. Highest or any tender not necessarily accepted. Address Tenders Mrs. Wm. Grant, Point Ellice Victoria.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Sample Silk Waists for $2.90 at the June Sale

Marquisettes, pongee, messalines, chiffons, ninons and shot silks are some of the materials, and as there is scarcely two alike, except in pongee, you get a distinctive style at a price you usually pay for an ordinary garment.

Some have handsomely embroidered fronts, while others have large dashes of lace, or are trimmed with pleats, tucks or pipings. Of course there are both high and low necks to choose from.

The Pongee Waists are in the Peter Pan style, and are neatly trimmed with pipings. Your choice on Saturday morning. $2.90

$1.50 for New Pannier Waists at the June Sale

THIS is an entirely new style that is gaining favor rapidly. It was designed in Paris, made a big hit in that city, and now the whole world is paying tribute to the designer's skill.

Here are some charming examples. They have Dutch necks edged with dainty lace, are made of beautiful embroidery and are trimmed with wide lace insertions. All sizes are here, and at this price they are sure to sell rapidly. June sale price $1.50

Night Gowns Marked Low for the June Sale

Slip-Over Night Gowns made of fine white cotton. They are daintily trimmed in a variety of styles with lace and embroidery. June sale price 85¢

Cotton Night Dresses made in the slip-over style. Have a deep yoke made of embroidery and are trimmed with insertions and ribbon. The sleeves are short and are made of all-over embroidery. June sale price $1.15

Night Gowns made of fine nainsook or cambric. There is a variety of attractive styles to choose from in this line. They are handsomely trimmed with embroideries and lace. Some are in the slip-over style, and others are open down the front. Some have high necks and long sleeves. June sale price $1.25

Serviceable Print Waists at 35c

THEY are really worth much more, but this is a June sale that will surpass all our previous records for excellent values, and this line is one that we are proud of.

They come in a variety of striped prints, have detachable soft collars, full length sleeves, plain cuffs, and fasten down the front.

Not very fancy, but really useful, and a value that cannot be duplicated when the lot is sold. Practically all sizes are here. June Sale Price on Saturday Morning 35¢

Sweeping Reductions in the Mantle Department

The June Sale Creates a New Record for Low Prices and Excellent Values

OUR June white sale will start on Saturday morning with great activity, and if remarkably low prices combined with our usual high quality standard is an inducement, this sale should be a record event.

Our buyers, who are now in the Eastern markets, were instructed to purchase, for cash, all goods that measure up to the Spencer standard of quality, provided that they could be resold at a price that would make selling easy.

Of course, the styles are the latest—it wouldn't pay us to handle them, no matter how low the price may be, unless the style is right.

Some of these shipments have arrived and we have added to these lots some of our regular stock. The result is a pleasing assortment of bargains is now awaiting your inspection. Here are some of them:

Costumes That Were Sold From $20 to $45 Should Find Ready Purchasers at $9.75, $14.75, $18.75, $27.50 and $32.50

IT'S quite true that the prices are low, so low, in fact, that you might be a little skeptical about the quality of the garments.

However, the garments are ready for your inspection. They will stand the test, and will strengthen your confidence in the Spencer store. Not a single costume in these groups is worth less than $20, and we have sold lots of them at this price, so if you get one for $9.75 you'll have a most unusual bargain. Can you afford to miss this opportunity?

Many different colors and styles are here to choose from, in fact there is everything that is popular this season, with the exception of our strictly man-tailored garments.

All are silk lined and represent a very high standard of tailoring. You really must see the garments, otherwise you cannot realize the true value of these unusual offers.

JUNE SALE PRICES, $9.75, $14.75, $18.75, $27.50 AND $32.50

Our Entire Line of Women's Coats

THAT WERE SELLING FROM $17.50 TO $25.00

Is Marked at $10.75

This, you will agree, is a sweeping reduction to make and it illustrates the extent to which we have gone to make this sale a complete merchandizing success.

What about the colors and materials? Well, there are tweeds and plain cloths to choose from, and browns, greys, fawns, blues both light and dark, together with a choice assortment of mixtures, are included. All sizes are here, so there's every opportunity for you to benefit.

SEE THE SHOWING IN THE VIEW STREET WINDOWS

About 40 Stylish Dresses in Muslins and Marquisettes

SALE SATURDAY MORNING AT JUST HALF THEIR REGULAR PRICE

Dresses that range in value from $7.50 up to $65 are going on sale on Saturday morning at exactly half their regular prices.

There are no two dresses alike in this lot, so we can't attempt to describe them all. Even if we did, words would be a failure to convey to your mind an adequate idea of their beauty. See the samples in the View Street windows, they tell their own story.

Some are plain white with full embroidered skirts, while others are handsomely trimmed with hand-embroidery and beautiful lace insertions. A number of them are slightly trimmed with touches of colored embroidery.

More Bargains in Long Coats for the June Sale

REGULAR VALUES FROM $27.50 TO $30.00 ARE MARKED DOWN TO $19.75—VALUES FROM $35.00 TO $37.50 WILL BE SOLD FOR $28.50

HERE are two groups that should appeal to the woman who desires a garment that is a little better than the average, and right up to date in style. Some of them have large motor hoods, some comparatively plain, and others elaborately trimmed.

The materials are the very best of English and Scotch tweeds, and plain cloths, while the colors are so varied that you are sure of finding a garment that will please you.

Refined taste in design, and a very high standard of skill in the tailoring, are the points that are most prominent in these coats. We invite you to inspect them.

ALL SIZES AND ALL ONE PRICE $1.90

ANOTHER SPLENDID LINE THAT WILL BE SOLD AT $1.90

These are all-over lace and are made over a good net. There is a wide panel effect down the front, have high necks and beautiful yokes of lace. The sleeves are set-in, are three-quarter length, and the cuffs give a double sleeve effect. The most prominent trimming is a piping of silk that outlines the centre panel, the sleeves, etc., and gives the garment a rich appearance. Pipings come in colors sky, pink and old gold. All sizes are here, and they are a really fine value at $1.90

Dressing Jackets—Reg. $1 Values, June Sale Price 65c

PROBABLY these are just what you want. One thing is certain: they are temptingly low priced, and should sell rapidly. They come in dark Paisley patterns and are trimmed with bands of plain material. See the samples in the Broad Street windows. June sale price.....65¢

MANY SPRING MODELS TO CLEAR AT $5.00

MANY women will welcome this sale. As usual, we have grouped the hats together into one class and have marked them at one price.

A glance at the models that are being shown in the Broad Street windows will be sufficient to convince you that there is not a single hat that is not worth considerably more than this price, and many of them are our expensive models.

Many different styles are represented, in fact there are too many to attempt a description, and it is our object to clean them out before the main shipments of summer millinery arrives.

Our Mr. Dean Spencer is now in the East making purchases for us, and a few small lines of trimmings have already arrived—that's why we wish to make a speedy clearance.

You should take advantage of this money-saving event.
